NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Having girdled the world with a trail of crime, Frank Henry Burness, with the burden of nine murders upon him, has made a confession of his many crimes.

The greater part of his confession was made in open court, apparently in an effort to railroad himself to the electric chair.

When the jury, after one minute's deliberation, found him guilty of murder in the first degree, for Capt. Townsend's murder, he warmly congratulated the members and wished them a happy Christmas.

While there was an element of Braggadocio about the story, still the brutal glee he found in telling of the murder of Capt. Townsend, about which there is no doubt, makes it reasonable to believe the balance of his story.

Standing within the shadow of the grim chair that awaits him in the death chamber at Sing Sing, Burness withheld and palliated nothing.

His life is a romance of sterner, ruder stuff than ever finds its way into the novels of even the most reckless writers of fiction. It is the story of a man of rugged strength, fierce passion and a rage absolutely beyond control.

Around the world Burness has hacked, shot and clubbed his way.

Rough shipmates have gone down before him with broken bones and bruised bodies and, through the stoke hole and the after cabin, he has fought with a trail of murder following him like a red ribbon, on his way through a life filled with hardships and constant brutality.

Burness confessed the commission of nine murders. Two of these he declined to discuss, refusing to make even any mention of them.

Only Trace of Human Feeling.

"That crime was simply manslaughter," said Burness on the witness stand when asked about one of the homicides.

"I don't wish to say anything about it, because there are two men still living and, perhaps, on the high seas, who would be affected by it," he said.

This evidence of loyalty to supposed accomplices was the only trace of human feeling he displayed.

The matter of fact way in which he told of the killing of Townsend made his listeners shudder. His evidence was taken by affirmation after he had refused to take an oath on the Bible, saying:

"That book has no significance for me."

Referring to the prisoner's confession which had already been introduced, his lawyer said:

"What did you suppose would be the result?"

"Why, I could only see one way out of it," replied Burness.

"What is that?"

"Why, the chair, of course."

The jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree. Burness turned to the jurors and said:

"Most men who are convicted hold ill will toward those who find them guilty. It is not so with me. I wish you all a happy Christmas."

Burness confessed on the stand that he killed Capt. Townsend because the latter had refused to pay him a balance of $6.30 due as wages. He told of making his demand and of being refused.

Tells How He Killed Captain.

"Townsend walked away," he went on, "and then I sat on the rail and thought. 'Well,' I thought to myself, 'it's six one way and half a dozen the other.' Of course, I'd determined to kill him if he did not pay me, so I followed him down into the cabin, where he'd gone.

"I went into the cabin and saw him standing there," he continued.

MISSOURI OFFICIALS SILENT AS TO MOSBY

Supreme Court Clerk Green, Who Discharged the Author of "Ben Blunt," Has Nothing to Say, and Mosby Intimates That It Is Not His Time to Talk.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 22.—None of the state officials will discuss the discharge of Speed Mosby from his job of deputy clerk in the Supreme Court because of his authorship of "Ben Blunt," a satire on Missouri's state officials. Clerk John B. Green says he is not ready to give a statement and the other officials say they have nothing to do with the case, as it does not affect them. Mr. Mosby, when asked regarding his future plans, said:

"While my plans for the future are not fully matured, it may be stated in a general way that the habits of life and the modes of livelihood followed by me in the future will not be substantially different from those which I have pursued in the past, save that political honors will never have for me the attraction they had in earlier years, when I had seen less of politics than I since have seen. Besides, there are those who think that the government of this state can be administered very well without my assistance, and even the politicians, I am grieved to believe, may be able to get along without me, which is the more probable now, since I have, in 'Ben Blunt,' left them many profound political axioms for their future guidance.

"My literary work, of course, will continue. I could not get away from it, even if I tried. Whether I shall write for a living or not, I shall certainly live to write. I have planned much work of this kind, which I hope to accomplish.

"I may do some writing upon the subject of Missouri politics, but that matter has not been fully determined. However, if I do there will be no question this time as to what I mean to say. For the present I shall continue to edit the Cole County Democrat. The work is congenial; besides, it will afford me an opportunity to continue advocating those sound and wholesome principles of democracy in which I have always believed, and which I long so much to see adopted by the American people—democracy which stands for justice, which is a synonym for civic righteousness and which means freedom and equality of opportunity to all men."

The guillotine which cut off Speed Mosby's official head was set up just the moment that the Sunday Post-Dispatch containing the exclusive story of "Ben Blunt" reached Jefferson City.

Mosby knew that this publication sounded his death-knell, and it was then that he formulated his now famous aphorism to the effect that "every man must have the right to worship his job according to the dictates of his own conscience."

He was laughing over the excited condition of Jefferson City officialdom when he said this. "If the cap fits, let 'em wear it," he declared in effect.

Nevertheless, he avowed them, as he does now, that the satire in "Ben Blunt" was not leveled at the Dockery administration or at Jefferson City society. He said this so often that people began to smile and wink and shake their heads waggishly. "Mehtinks he doth protest too much," they quoted, reading "Ben Blunt" again and listening to Speed Mosby's laughing denials.

But the author's word must be taken as final.

Politicians declared that none but Gov. Dockery could have been in Speed Mosby's mind when he drew the pen picture of a Missouri governor whose wink was famous throughout the state. They claimed to recognize the Dockery flowing mustache and long imperial also, though the governor had shaved some little time before Speed Mosby's book was published. They did not profess to be sure about the poker game in "Ben Blunt," where the fiction-governor is described as winning heavily from the confidential work of the state auditor by utilizing a mirror that hung behind the unsuspecting clerk, but they were morally certain of the Dockery wink and reasonably assured of the mustache and imperial.

But Speed Mosby kept on denying. He declared that the fictional character of State Auditor William Rounder was not in the least intended to lampoon State Auditor Albert O. Allen. It was known, of course, that the incident of the state auditor's defalcation, as related in "Ben Blunt," was purely imaginary, and this incident cut no figure in Jefferson City comment. But folks still kept on saying that Speed Mosby intended to make fun of Capt. Allen.

Similarly, also, the author of "Ben Blunt" averred that State Treasurer Robert P. Williams was not in his mind a little bit when he wrote of State Treasurer Barton in his Missouri political novel, and that there was no counterpart in real life for the chief justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri whom he drew in the pages of "Ben Blunt."

Mosby will not consent for a minute to figure as having caricatured the Dockery administration, either singly or collectively. But he dedicated his novel to ex-Gov. Lon V. Stephens, the bitter foe and critic of that administration, and he expected to be "fired" as soon as "Ben Blunt" made its appearance.

As with the political aspect of "Ben Blunt," so with its social aspect. Jefferson City society "went up in the air," so to speak, when Speed Mosby's satire came out, but Speed Mosby keeps on saying that he has satirized nobody in particular in that society. There are some amusing figures in this part of his novel—well, if there chance to be some amusing figures of a like tenor in Jefferson City society, he contends, why blame him for it? All of which was heard with profound interest by the best people of the state capital—and then the protests against "Ben Blunt" waxed fiercer than ever.

And now Speed Mosby is "fired" on account of his novel. He doesn't complain of the loss of his job, but it may be that he thinks native literature meets with mighty little encouragement in Missouri. If he does he'll say so.

MYSTERIOUS FALL KILLS SCHOOLBOY

Playmates Will Act as Pallbearers for Little Harry Werner.

ACCIDENT IS UNEXPLAINED

Had Been Tripped by Boy Earlier in the Day and Was Going Home.

Instead of Christmas gayety there is grief this year at the Riddick school for the death of 11-year-old Harry Werner, who fell from a stairway on the first floor to the basement of the school Friday afternoon, Dec. 11, and died yesterday.

How the accident happened is a mystery which but deepens the grief of teachers and playmates of the boy who every day gather along the stairways to discuss in whispers how he could have fallen. The coroner will make an investigation.

Harry was in room 8 of the school. Not larger than a boy of 9, he was healthy and full of life. His big, black eyes are recalled by everyone who speaks of him.

From the time of the accident until he died Harry was conscious only twice for five minutes each time. Physicians would not allow him to talk but little and what he said only deepened the mystery of his accident.

"I don't remember anything from noon," he told his mother. "That boy hurt me so and made me sick."

This statement was interpreted to refer to some playground incident prior to the fall.

Harry was found lying unconscious on the basement floor of the school at Whittier street and Evans avenue late in the afternoon. James Pope, a playmate, had heard a noise as of someone falling and had told his teacher. Her search revealed the injured boy.

At noon the same day Harry had got home from school late. He limped painfully up the steps and said a boy had tripped him in fun on the playground.

He ate lunch hurriedly and started back to school. He still limped, but said he felt all right.

Half an hour after school had convened he complained of feeling ill and was allowed to go home. It was when on his way downstairs that he fell.

He had not reached the landing half way down the stairs. James Pope was below the landing on his way up. The stairs turn at the landing and the boys were not in sight of each other, but James heard Harry walking. Then he heard a sound as of somebody falling, and the footsteps ceased.

He hurried to his room and gave the alarm.

His story of hearing the footsteps disposes of the theory that Harry had fallen while sliding down the banisters. As they are only 26 inches high it is believed he became dizzy, leaned on them and fell over.

Schoolmates will be the pallbearers at his funeral at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Services will be he at the home of his father, Samuel Werner, 4074 Page boulevard. A sister, Bertha, aged 8, and a brother, Isadore, aged 6, survive him.

DIVORCED FROM RUSSIAN BARON

Mrs. Nellie Feldman Says Husband Deserted Her to Return to His Estate.

Mrs. Nellie Feldman, who thinks her husband is a Russian baron, has secured the divorce she sought because he left her, as she thinks, to live on his ancestral estate in the domains of the Czar.

She was one of the 68 persons who, with friends and relatives, crowded the courthouse Wednesday eager to secure a divorce before Christmas. Not even the thought that she had lost a noble husband, dimmed her joy when the decree was granted.

Mrs. Feldman said she married Charles H. Feldman in Washington, in 1901. At that time he was a steward in the navy, having served through the war. He told her that in Russia he had a father who was a baron and owned great estates. He, however, as a younger son, expected nothing.

In March, 1902, having left the navy, she says, Feldman also left her, saying he was going to New York to secure employment as hotel steward there.

From that day she never heard of him, although she searched New York, Buffalo and Chicago, and wrote to eBrlin and St. Petersburg. His friends told her he had gone to Russia. His father and elder brother had died, leaving him sole heir of the title and the estates. Mrs. Feldman said she had reason to believe he was enjoying them.

Divorces Granted by Four Judges.

Divorce dockets were called Wednesday by Judges Hough, Foster, Douglas and Blevins.

Mrs. Minnie French secured a divorce from Harry L. French, who, she said, had deserted her a few days after their marriage in 1894.

Mrs. Catherine Poeling pleaded successfully that her husband, Henry Poeling, cared more for another woman and that they had separated in May last.

Mrs. Louise Froboese was divorced from Frederick J. Froboese. Froboese lives at 2811 South Jefferson avenue.

Louis C. Marr testified that his wife, Ida, refused to leave Cincinnati, where they were married, even to go to New York, where he had employment, and that therefore he went without her, coming later to St. Louis. He says she is still in Cincinnati. The court granted him a divorce.

Mrs. Mary Plezzek secured a divorce from Leo P. Plezzek, and Mrs. Louisa C. Langenkamp from William H. Langenkamp, both charging desertion.

Mrs. Frances Quinn was the only applicant who left the courthouse during the morning without a decree. She burst into tears when informed that her husband, Patrick Quinn, had decided to contest her suit and that the case would be continued 30 days.

DIRECTORS ASKED TO SMASH CORNER

OPERATORS DENY THE CHARGE

"Increase in Prices Due Simply to Natural Conditions," Says Large Grain Dealer.

A protest filed with the directors ofthe Merchants' Exchange, and by them considered inexecutive session is taken by many to mean that the men caught by the Milliken-Spencer wheat combine and who have to deliver or settle for several hundred thousand bushels by Dec. 31, are seeking the assistance of the exchange in making settlements.

The protestors allege that Milliken and Spencer are guilty of conspiracy to boost the price of December wheat, that they are working a corner, and that they are violating the rules of the exchange and the laws of Missouri and the United States.

The board of directors are notified that they will be held personally responsible if they countenance the alleged "combine," or allow the price of December wheat to be boosted abnormally.

While the protest was considered at Tuesday's meeting, the fact was not made known, and only a select few of the operators on 'change had learned of it Wednesday. No action on the protest was taken, further than to make it a matter of record, and officers of the exchange refused to give out a copy of the protest for publication.

C. H. Albers, owner of the Advance elevators; F. H. Goodnow of the Farmers' Elevator, and J. H. Teasdale of the J. H. Teasdale Commission Co. were three of the ten signers of the protest.

Corwin H. Spencer denied today that he was in any effort to "corner" the market on wheat.

"We have bought no wheat since September," he said. "We bought it when it was cheap. The men who sold it—people in Milwaukee, Chicago, New York and St. Louis—have, until the last day of the month to complete their deliveries.

"We have not been forcing them. They have been making deliveries at intervals, until we have stored somethinglike 4,500,000 bushels. There remains a very large quantity yet to be delivered, and there is not much more wheat in the country for them to get hold of.

"We deny absolutely that we are making an effort to run a corner. We bought actual wheat, and we expect to deliver actual wheat.

"We are not trying to boost the price; it is merely going up because of the scarcity of wheat. That is what we thought it would do."

Mr. Spencer declined to discuss the protest or the possible motives of the protesters. He said he had not seen the document, but had heard it read.

Further Increase Expected Soon.

The Merchants' Exchange, some time ago, fixed 85 cents as the marginal price for December wheat. This allows settlement of margins at 10 per cent on either side, or 75.4 cents on sale and 94.6 on purchase. The price for No. 2 Wednesday was 91½ cents, a rise of about 2 cents since the marginal price was fixed.

It is expected that efforts of those who are under contract to supply the wheat yet called for by the Milliken-Spencer people will further raise the price before final settling day.

Mr. Spencer declined to say how much wheat was yet to be delivered. Others said it was at least 2,000,000 bushels.

JOHN H. OVERALL DIES IN NEW YORK

Former Vice-President of the Police Board Was Widely Known as an Attorney.

Telegrams from New York City to St. Louis attorneys announce that John H. Overall, well-known lawyer and former vice-president of the police board, died there suddenly Wednesday morning from an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Overall and her older son, John H. Overall, Jr., on receiving telegrams yesterday announcing Col. Overall's extreme illness, left last night for New York.

Col. Overall was in poor health for the past six months, but a restful trip to Europe during the summer, on which he was accompanied by his two sons, and afterwards a vacation spent in the country during the fall had seemingly restored him to former health and strength. His family expected him to return for Christmas.

Col. Overall married in 1874 Miss Mary Rollins, the daughter of James S. Rollins. He leaves a widow and four children, Florence, John H., Jr., Adele and Sidney.

Col. Overall was appointed a member of the Board of Police Comissioners by Gov. Francis in 1889, and served four years as vice-president of the board.

John H. Overall was born March 26, 1845, in St. Charles County, Missouri, son of Maj. Wilson L. and Eliza Williams Overall. His father was a native of Tennessee, but came to Missouri in his young manhood and in territorial days joined the forces which went out from Missouri to participate in the war of 1812. His mother, who died in 1880, was a woman of brilliant talents, and was the first woman editor in America. Mr. Overall graduated from Missouri State University in the class of 1865, and received his degree at Harvard in 1867. Returning to St. Louis he spent four months studying court procedure and fitting himself for the active practice of the law. In less than a year he was elected attorney for the second judicial district of Missouri.

Col. Overall held this office until 1872, when he resigned to accept the position of dean of the law department of the State University at Columbia. In 1874 he came to St. Louis and succeeded Fidelio C. Sharp as a partner of the late Col. James O. Broadhead. Later this partnership was dissolved and the law firm of Overall & Judson was formed.

SNOW FOR SANTA'S REINDEER?

According to the outlook Wednesday, St. Louis' fair weather is at an end, for a few days at least. Rain and other things are on the path, and St. Louis will be a stopping point. The official forecast issued by the local weather bureau Wednesday morning says:

I bid $1000 for the RD doll

"Increasing cloudiness with rain late Wednesday night and Thursday. Warmer tonight and colder Thursday. Minimum temperature tonight will be above freezing."

Children will hope that the promised cold weather will change the rain into snow and make good sleighing for Santa Claus' reindeer. And such a thing seems possible, though the weather bureau does not choose to forecast an uncertainty.

WOMAN WHO PURSUES NEGRO GETS BACK HER POCKETBOOK

Victim of Another Attack Is Left Far From Home Without Car Fare—Child Identifies Man as One Who Seized Mother's Christmas Money.

Arrests, extraordinary police precautions and speedy penitentiary sentences have not served to awe burglars and robbers, although the safe blowers have not been heard from for two days.

The only noticeable difference is that the plan of action has moved from the downtown district to the district west of Grand avenue, and that purse-snatchers are preying more extensively on Christmas shoppers.

NOT EVEN CARFARE LEFT TO GIRL BY ARMED ROBBER

A pistol pressed closely against her forehead effectively silenced Miss Annie Killorah of 2202 Cass avenue while a negro highwayman secured her pocketbook, near Sixth and Marion streets.

Miss Killoran was waiting for a car when the negro stepped quietly up behind her, and, seizing her by the arm, swung her violently around until he looked straight into her face.

At sight of the man Miss Killoran was about to scream, but the negro pressed a pistol against her forehead and whispered, "Don't holler." She obeyed.

After seizing 50 cents, which she held in her hand, the negro demanded her purse, which she had placed in her stocking before leaving the factory. She gave it to him, as the pistol was still against her forehead. Then he leisurely stepped back from her, turned, pocketed the revolver and disappared in the darkness.

Miss Killoran ran to the Soulard police station and reported the robbery.

The pocketbook had contained $7.50, and the desk sergeant at the station gave her carefare to go home.

GIRL "KEPT LOOKING" AND IDENTIFIED NEGRO SUSPECT

The description given by Rosie Skinner, 7 years old, of the negro who snatched her mother's purse on Manchester avenue near Grand was so clear and minute that the police were enabled to arrest the man within an hour.

Both the mother, Mrs. Louisa Skinner, and Rosie identified him positively. The child became hysterical from fright at the sight of his face, and had to be carried from the station. The negro gives his name as George Marshall of Twenty-third and Papin streets.

Mrs. Skinner, with Rosie and her son, Willie, 5 years old, was walking toward her home at 3521 Manchester avenue. She carried a few Christmas bundles, and her large purse was swinging from a chain attached to her wrist.

East of Theresa avenue she saw someone walking behind her and quickened her pace. A moment later, when she looked back, the man was not in sight.

When she was in a short distance of her home she heard the footstep again. Within a few feet of her, and creeping stealthily, was a negro. The light from a street lamp shone full in his face. Rosie thus tells of what happened.

"I saw the man and took a good look at him, because I wanted to remember him. When he jumped at mamma I kept on looking. He jerked her purse and the chain broke, and he ran. I screamed, and mamma screamed, and Willie screamed, but I kept on looking. Then the man ran, and we found a policeman and told him about it.

"Mamma had a good look at the man, too, but I saw him best, and I told the policeman what he looked like. And then they found him, and mamma and I went to the police station, and I saw him again and—and it scared me. So I cried."

KNOCKS DOWN MAN WHO TRIES TO STEAL HER PURSE

Mrs. Fannie Polleck of 2815 Dayton street fought with, knocked down and then pursued a negro thief who had snatched her purse at the alley on the north side of Carr street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, just at dark. She recovered her purse and finally notified a policeman, but she had to walk to the Carr street station, five blocks from where the chase ended, before she could find him.

Mrs. Polleck's purse was attached to a chain, which was wraped twice around the middle finger of her right hand. As she passed the alley the negro sprang out and caught the purse.

Mrs. Polleck began to scream, at the same time trying to jerk the purse from the negro's grasp. The chain broke, however, and the negro started to run west on Carr street.

Mrs. Polleck, still calling for the police, started after him. She came close enough to hit at him, and he slipped. She struck him again and he fell almost to the ground. As she struck at him again he dodged, regained his feet and was off at racehorse speed.

Mrs. Polleck pursued him to Twelfth street, continuing her calls for the police at every step. At Twelfth street she abandoned the chase and started to return. She found her purse near where she had knocked the negro down, and then began a diligent search for a policeman.

She walked east slowly, looking up and down each cross street, but never a policeman could she find. At the station she gave the police a description of the negro, who

RUSSIA NAGS JAPAN INTO WAR FEVER

Official Advices From Minister Conger at Pekin Convince President Roosevelt That Hostilities Cannot Be Averted and Will Begin in Short Time

JAPAN MUST FIGHT OR SUFFER DEEP HUMILIATION

Significant Order to Viceroy Alerieff Giving Him Extraordinary Power in Settling Question That Come Up in Manchuria and Corea

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The administration believes that war between Russia and Japan is imminent. The beginning of hostilities within a short time would not surprise the President or Secretary Hay. Their conviction that war cannot long be averted is based on reports from Minister Conger and from other sources which few people have seen. These reports show that Russia, whose demands have daily grown more exacting and insistent, is determined to force Japan to declare war.

If the acceptance of the Czar's challenge is not as prompt as is desired, the advices to the state department plainly say that Russia will begin hostilities. War within a few days would be a fulfillment of the predictions of Minister Conger, and would be just about what the British foreign office looks for. Ever since Japan began negotiations with Russia, looking to a peaceful solution of the problems involving Manchuria and Corea, the Russian demands have been increasing in their extent and in the firmness with which they were presented.

Russia now refuses to discuss the question of the integrity of China, or the equality of commercial opportunity there and demands equal rights with Japan in Corea. This means that the Russian grab of Manchuria is to be completed and that the new American commercial treaty with China, which provides for the opening of two ports in Manchuria, is not worth the paper it is written on, unless Russia so wills it.

In her extermity Japan told the Czar that he could have Manchuria, but that she must have Corea or she would fight for it. The Czar has now told Japan, it is believed, that she must fight.

The administration believes that Germany is behind Russia and has a secret agreement with the Czar by which the Kaiser is to largely extend the German "sphere of influence" in China with the perfecting of the Russian title to Manchuria.

BRIDAL COUPLES IN BATTLE ROYAL

Husbands Take Wives' Parts and Six-Cornered Fight Results.

END IS IN POLICE COURT

Each of the Young Women and One of the Men Are Fined Five Dollars.

The story of a six-cornered battle royal, in which three young married couples had participated, was told in the Dayton Street Police Court Wednesday. The three couples live on the second floor of 1107 Morgan street. They are James and June Williams, George and Nellie Miller and William and Florence Goodman.

The men work during the day. Tuesday afternoon the women quarreled over differences of opinion. In the evening each greeted her husband with tears and a tale of the abuse she had suffered at the hands of the two others.

Goodman promptly appeared in his doorway with a revolver, Williams in his with a butcher knife and Miller in his with a broom.

Negotiating at long range the men finally decided to let the women fight it out, which they promptly started to do.

Soon Goodman interferred and Williams rushed at him. Miller made a dive for Williams and all six were soon struggling madly.

The occupants of the first floor called the police. Judge Pollard fined each of the three women and Williams $5.

STARVING FAMILY RELIEVED.

Father Is Unable to Provide Since Trolley Accident.

The police were informed Wednesday morning that the 2-weeks-old baby of Arthur Fortner of 6743 Alabama street was litterally starving to death. The father, mother and six children are absolutely destitute. Three of the children, who range in age from 13 years down, have no clothing. The matter was reported by Dr. Cluett, 6719 Michigan avenue. He stated that there was no food in the house and that immediate assistance was necessary.

SHIPYARDS LETTERS SHOCK FINANCIERS

Schwab Hastens to File Answer to Charges of Fraud Against Him and Offers to Restore Stocks and Bonds to Company.

> "I was then, and have ever since been and am now able and willing to return all securities received by me or by Messrs. Morgan & Co. and to rescind the whole transaction, and I hereby tender the same for that purpose."
> —Extract from Schwab's answer to charges of fraud against him, as filed in court.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The exclusive publication in the Post-Dispatch and New York World yesterday of the remarkable letters and cablegrams which passed between Charles B. Alexander in Paris and the members of his firm, Alexander & Green, of this city, in connection with the sale of $4,250,000 bonds of the United States Shipbuilding Co. to a French underwriting syndicate, aroused not only the keenest interest in financial and business circles, but was the subject of much discussion among those in the legal profession.

The publication of this correspondence was regarded on all sides as A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE FIRST IMPORTANCE in that it showed clearly the methods used by men of high standing to unload the securities of a new corporation, heavily capitalized and bonded, upon the public.

Of such great importance was the suppression of these letters and cablegrams, in the opinion of men interested in the shipyards company, that the lawyers retained by them in the proceedings worked harder to keep them from the public than they did any other phase of the exposure.

ACCURACY OF LETTERS IS ADMITTED.

At the bondholders' hearing yesterday before United States Special Examiner Oliphant, Mr. Guthrie, counsel for Charles M. Schwab, handed to Mr. Oliphant a copy of The World and demanded an investigation, admitting the accuracy and authenticity of the letters and cablegrams as published in the Post-Dispatch and World.

In doing so, the documents which Mr. Guthrie and the other lawyers fought so long to keep off the records, now become part of the official papers before the special examiner.

At the opening of the hearing today, Counsel Untermeyer at once took up the subject of the publication of the Alexander correspondence, declaring that so far as he knew neither himself, his associate counsel nor anyone connected with his office had anything to do with giving the correspondence to the press.

"However," he continued, "I do not see how the question of contempt of court in the publication of this report can be raised in anything but a Pickwickian sense."

"PRIVILEGE CLAIM ABSURD," SAYS LAWYER.

He said that he had learned that no less than 15 copies of the correspondence had been made and distributed broadcast in New York; that he, himself, had had his copy only during the examination. He said that copies of the correspondence had been offered for sale in newspaper offices in New York.

"Under such circumstances," he continued, "it is absurd to claim that such correspondence is privileged."

During Mr. Untermeyer's extended remarks on the subject he referred to the alleged "lack of courtesy" shown by opposing counsel and "efforts to sidetrack the real issues in the case."

"At another time," he added, "we shall be very glad to go into this matter."

Mr. Guthrie, replying, declared that he had summoned three witnesses from the World and asked permission to go into the matter, but Counsel Untermeyer objected to a hearing on this subject being interjected into the Shipbuilding hearing. Referee Oliphant sustained the objection.

The most important development in connection with this extraordinary exposure is the answer of Charles M. Schwab to the charges of fraud against him in connection with financing the company. The answer has been filed in court. After denying that he had anything to do with such methods as these letters expose, he continues in defense of himself, as follows:

Denies Any Part in Promoted Company

"I deny that I ever was or became one of the promoters of the Shipbuilding Company or that I and a number of persons associated with me acquired the capital stock of the Bethlehem Steel Company, as averred in said cross bill.

"I admit that the property of the said Bethlehem Steel Company was, on the 12th day of August, 1902, encumbered by a first mortgage executed by the Bethlehem Iron Company, the predecessor in title of said steel company, to secure bonds aggregating $1,351,000, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, and a purchase money mortgage executed by said steel company to secure the payment of $7,500,000, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum."

Emphatic denied is made that he ever conceived any scheme of transferring to the shipbuilding company the stock of the above company at an excessive rate or upon conditions permitting him or his associates to control the shipbuilding company or to absorb for his benefit "all of its property and assets to the injury of its creditors and of its bona fide bondholders and stockholders or otherwise." Continuing, Mr. Schwab says:

"I deny that, with any purpose of accomplishing such intent and purpose or otherwise, I or any associates of mine represented to the shipbuilding company that the said shares of stock were worth the sum of $30,000,000; that the said steel company had during the fiscal year ending July 31, 1902, made a net profit in its operations amounting to the sum of $1,441,208; that its said surplus assets on July 31, 1902, amounted to $4,118,000."

Says He Made No False Statements

Mr. Schwab denies that he ever made any false representations regarding the Bethlehem Steel Co. and denies that his stock July 31, 1902, was not worth to exceed $7,500,000. He believed that the net earnings of the shipbuilding company for the 12 months ending July 31, 1902, exceeded $1,000,000, and that the surplus current assets exceeded $3,500,000.

He repudiates any connection with John W. Young and says he never caused the latter to propose to the shipbuilding directors to transfer 300,000 shares of Bethlehem stock, ten million each of bonds, preferred and common stock, of the Shibuilding Co. He says:

"I admit that I am the holder and owner of upwards of $9,000,000 of the $10,000,000 of the bonds and upwards of $9,000,000 of the $10,000,000 of the preferred and upwards of $9,000,000 of the $10,000,000 of the common stock of the Shipbuilding Co., issued for the stock of the steel company, but I deny that any associates of mine are the owners of the remainder of the preferred and common stock so issued for the stock of the Bethlehem Steel Co., except what I sold and transferred some of said bonds and stocks to third parties."

Full Value Given for the Stock

Mr. Schwab is of the belief that the stocks received in exchange for the steel stock did not exceed the value of the steel stock. He denies that the bonds were issued without consideration.

The defendant avers that, if the first mortgage bonds be declared null and void and be repudiated as obligations of the shipbuilding company the assets of the company, including the shares of the steel company, will "greatly exceed the total amount of its remaining debts and obligations and will be ample, not only to pay the bonds secured by the mortgage to the New York Security and Trust company, but all other claims whatsoever besides a substantial dividend upon the stock of said shipbuilding company."

Mr. Schwab says the shipbuilding company is not entitled to enforce any alleged indebtedness against him.

He avers that neither he nor his associates conspired with the "dummy" directors of the shipbuilding company to have inserted in the mortgage to the security and trust company and in the charter of the shipbuilding company provisions which would give him or them absolute control of the shipbuilding and steel companies with the power to so manipulate the corporations as to cause default in the payment of interest, thereby defrauding creditors, stockholders and bondholders of the shipbuilding company.

Declares He Didn't Hold Up Dividend

He says he and his associates had nothing to do with the withholding by the Bethlehem company of the dividend payments on the 300,000 shares of its stock owned by the shipbuilding company for the purpose of wrecking the latter concern. He asserts that on the other hand, "although often requested to do so, the steel company has refused to declare such dividend." The defendant continues:

"I deny that I or the Security and Trust Co. or the directors of the shipbuilding company or of the steel company or any associates of mine or the reorganization committee or any of them acted fraudulently or in bad faith in the premises or for the purpose of destroying and wrecking the property of the shipbuilding company in the interests of myself or any associates of mine, and I deny that this suit is brought at the instance of the reorganization committee and myself or any associates of mine for the purpose of carrying the aforesaid or any other wrongful and fraudulent plan and scheme or of profiting and taking advantage of the alleged defaults accasioned by any wrongful or fraudulent acts, to the injury of the shipbuilding company or the bona fide creditors, bondholders or stockholders of the shipbuilding company."

Last April George R. Sheldon and Charles W. Wetmore of New York, representing a syndicate which had purchased $13,750,000 of the bonds and stock of the shipbuilding company, conferred with Mr. Schwab looking to reorganization of the company.

Mr. Schwab said he desired to take back the Bethlehem stock, returning to the shipbuilding company the bonds and stock he had received. Subsequently, for that purpose, he purchased from J. P. Morgan & Co. $5,000,000 of stock which had been delivered to them for the United States Steel syndicate and arranged to acquire all the remaining bonds and stock. Schwab adds:

"I was then and have ever since been and am now able and willing to return all the securities received by me or by Messrs. Morgan & Co. and to rescind the whole transaction, and I hereby tender the same for that purpose.

"As to the charges in the cross bill that I acted in collusion with the reorganization committee of the shipbuilding company in an attempt to force the insolvency of said company and to wreck it, I aver that such charges are false and malicious. I aver that James Smith, Jr., receiver of the shipbuilding company knows that such charges are untrue."

GATES WAS SUMMONED IN SHIPYARDS CASE BY RUSE

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—At the resumption of the Shipbuilding hearing today Alfred Rose, an accountant, who made an examination of the Bethlehem Steel Co. for Receiver Smith, was called.

Mr. Rose testified as to the financial status of the Bethlehem Co. from July 31, 1899, to Ooctober, 1903, his information prior to July 31, 1902, being derived from reports of officers of the firm. For a year and three months since then he had made a direct personal investigation.

During a pause in the examination, Mr. Guthrie brought up an extraneous subject by stating that he had been informed that the process server who served a subpena upon John W. Gates yesterday had used Mr. Guthrie's card to gain access to Mr. Gates.

Mr. Untermeyer said that the subpena had been served by an employe of his office and that, if he had resorted to "any such unprofessional conduct," he would be immediately discharged.

Mr. Gates was to have been examined today and appeared at the hearing, accompanied by his counsel, but, upon stating that he knew nothing of the matters on which Mr. Untermeyer desired to interrogate him, he was excused.

CUPID LURKS IN HELLO BOOTH

Lindell Hotel Operator Is Bride of Traveling Man Who Often Used Her Wire.

Telephone operators at the Lindell Hotel are sure Cupid is lurking in their booths to catch them. Four marriages have furnished proof, the last being that of Miss Anna McDonald, who is now the bride of William R. Large, a Philadelphia traveling man.

Miss McDonald was in charge of the Bell telephone booth at the Lindell for three years, and her big blue eyes and cheerful voice won many admirers among guests of the hotel, who made frequent opportunity to "call up" friends.

Large in particular had many friends with telephones and between calls he made it convenient to woo the pretty girl who "called" for him.

The wedding took place Tuesday at her home, 315 North Garrison avenue, and with Mr. Large she left at noon for Philadelphia.

Mrs. Margaret Dwyer, now Mrs. Walter Clinton, was a Lindell telephone operator captured by Cupid while on duty. Another was Miss Margaret Farrell, who left her booth one evening and never returned.

William Lewis, Said to Have Been Made Insane by Cigarettes, Escapes, but Is Arrested.

William Lewis, 32 years old, who says his wife lives at 1009 South Ninth street, was taken from East St. Louis Wednesday, back to the Anna Insane Asylum, from which he escaped Sunday afternoon. Lewis was sent to the asylum seven years ago, when he was a railroad engineer. His insanity was attributed to the excessive smoking of cigarettes, ninety being his usual daily amount. After escaping, Lewis, who seems to be sane, came to St. Louis. Tuesday he was arrested in an East St. Louis saloon. In the evening he bought a package of cigarettes and smoked four of them, the first he had smoked since his first imprisonment.

TWIN BROTHER HELD FOR GIRL'S MURDER

James Gillespie, His Sister, Sister-in-Law and Brother-in-Law, All Accused.

CONSPIRACY TO KILL CHARGED

Indictments Grow Out of the Assassination of Elizabeth Gillespie While in Her Home.

RISING SUN, Ind., Dec. 23.—As a result of the assassination of Miss Elizabeth Gillespie on Dec. 8, the grandjury has returned true bills of murder in the first degree against James Gillespie, a twin brother of the murdered woman; Mrs. Belle Seward, her widowed sister; Mrs. Carrie Barbour, niece of Dr. Thad A. Reamy, an eminent physician of Cincinnati, and Myron Barbour, her husband.

Mrs. Barbour is sister-in-law of Dr. William Gillespie, brother of the murdered woman. Bench warrants were issued immediately by Judge Downey of the Circuit Court.

The Gillespies were expecting the arrests, and Dr. Gillespie drove to the home of the accused in a closed carriage and took the indicted persons to the courthouse, surrendering all of them to the court.

The four indictments were read to the accused. They showed no emotion with the exception of Myron Barbour. The indictments charge them with "feloniously, maliciously and with premeditated intent," causing the death of Miss Elizabeth Gillespie.

A conspiracy among the members of the murdered woman's own family to kill her is charged.

James Gillespie, her twin brother, is the one who is charged as the principal, although all are charged with the murder in the first degree. Each entered a plea of not guilty.

Capt. Coles, attorney for the defendants, presented petitions for writ of habeas corpus on the grounds that there is not enough evidence to convict and that their liberty was withheld on a charge of a crime of which they are innocent. Judge Downey ordered the writs returnable immediately, and the petition was then heard with arguments.

Counsel for the defense stated that they were able to furnish reasonable bail, but the charge was not bailable, and the only proceeding was under the writs. It is stated that some of the prisoners will be taken to Lawrenceburg and Aurora and that they will be kept in separate confinement.

TO RESIGN IF CITY ASKS ALL HIS TIME

Councilman Newell, Who Called for Investigation, Says He Is in Earnest.

WILL STICK TO RESOLUTION

Thinks There Are Useless Offices at City Hall and Some Unworthy Office Holders.

Councilman James P. Newell, whose resolution calling for an investigation of the amount of time the city officials devote daily to the city's business has occasioned much uneasiness throughout the City Hall, made the following statement to the Post-Dispatch, with reference to the resolution:

"I introduced the resolution in all seriousness and I will stand by it. It was unanimously adopted by the Council and referred to Mr. Gibson's committee. Mr. Gibson I know to be a serious, conscientious man and I feel that he will do exactly what his committee was instructed to do. I am willing to stand by the report of his committee, no matter what it is.

"However, should the committee find that it is the law that the members of the Council should devote all of their time, during the hours specified, to the city's business I shall resign my office. I cannot afford to give all my time to the city and take it from my private business.

"I do not think any city official can be directly and financially interested in one or more private business enterprises and at the same time devote all the attention to his office that the law requires.

"How many city officials are doing this, if any, of course, is not for me to say. The committee is instructed to find this out.

"I think the committee will find out all about it and report its findings to the Council.

"As to why I introduced the resolution I have nothing to say, further than that I think there was ample ground for its introduction. The fact that the resolution was unanimously adopted by the Council shows that somebody else in addition to myself thought so.

"I can say nothing about the effect of the resolution, as the committee will determine that.

"I will say that I had no idea of reflecting on Mayor Rolla Wells or his administration by the resolution.

"I think Mayor Wells is by long odds the best mayor St. Louis ever had. He certainly has the welfare of the city at heart all the time.

"I think, however, that there are some useless offices at the City Hall and I think, too, that many positions are held there by persons who are not entitled to them.

"Incidentally, I will say that I am under no obligations to anybody at the City Hall for electing me to the Council. The only obligation I owe is to the Democratic party and this resolution is in the interest of the party and party workers.

"My resolution was not aimed at the board of public improvements, particularly, either. There are some good men on the board and some good friends of mine. There are some weak members, too. The council is not at war with the board, although the board has been showing a tendency lately to go on the system that it can do whatever it likes and the Council will concur. It showed that in the emergency hospital case, where it let a contract for improvements without waiting to get the authority from the Council to do so.

"I have nothing to say about the discharge of a man recommended by me last week. He was getting only $40 a month. The matter is too small to talk about."

Traffic in One Direction

By order of Mayor Wells, no more eastbound traffic will be permitted on De Giverville avenue east of De Baliviere avenue. Westbound vehicles will be given the freedom of the thoroughfare. This action was necessitated by the recent serious blockades on De Giverville avenue, occasioned by excavation of the 12-foot Blackstone sewer and the unusually heavy traffic incidental to the building of the World's Fair. The paving has been cut to pieces by this heavy traffic and the frequent blockades have compelled the Transit Company to abandon its McPherson avenue branch of the Olive street line.

Thousands of Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Almost every one, from personal experience, knows that the effects of any kind of severe physical strain are felt, first of all, in the small of the back—in other words, in those Vital Organs, the Kidneys. This is as true in the case of the very powerful as it is with one of less strength, and it is especially true whenever the kidneys are weak or out of order.

WOMEN suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not always correctly understood; in many cases when doctoring, they are led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for their ills, when in fact disordered kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles. Perhaps you suffer almost continually with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and utter exhaustion.

Didn't Know I Had Kidney Trouble

I had tried so many remedies without their having benefited me that I was about discouraged

but in a few days after taking your wonderful Swamp-Root I began to feel better.

I was out of health and run down generally; had no appetite, was dizzy and suffered with headache most of the time. I did not know that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble, but somehow felt they might be, and I began taking Swamp-Root, as above stated. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp-Root, and it goes right to the spot and drives disease out of the system. It has cured me, making me stronger and better in every way, and I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers. Gratefully yours,

MRS. A. L. WALKER,
46 West Linden St., Atlanta, Ga.

YOUR poor health makes you nervous, irritable and at times despondent; but thousands of just such suffering or broken-down women are being restored to health and strength every day by the use of that wonderful discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

To-Day I am in Splendid Health

bed I was left with excruciating pains in my back, which convinced me that I had a severe kidney trouble. My physical condition was such that I had no strength and was all run down.

My sister, Mrs. C. E. Littlefield of Lynn, advised me to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a trial. I procured a bottle and inside of three days commenced to get relief. I followed up that bottle with another, and at the completion of this one found I was completely cured. My strength returned and today I am as well as ever. My business is that of canvasser. I am on my feet a great deal of the time, and have to use much energy in getting around. My cure is therefore all the more remarkable, and is exceedingly gratifying to me. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take. Sincerely yours,

MRS. H. N. WHEELER,

NOT only does Swamp-Root bring new life and activity to the kidneys, the cause of the trouble, but by strengthening the kidneys it acts as a general tonic and food for the entire constitution.

My kidneys and bladder gave me great trouble for over two months and suffered untold misery.

MRS. E. AUSTIN.

I became weak, emaciated and very much run down. I had great difficulty in retaining my urine, and was obliged to pass water very often night and day. After I had used a sample bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent me on my request, I experienced relief and I immediately bought of my druggist two large bottles and continued taking it regularly. I am pleased to say that Swamp-Root cured me entirely. I can now stand on my feet all day without any bad symptoms whatever. Swamp-Root has proved a blessing to me. Gratefully yours,

MRS. E. AUSTIN,
19 Nassau St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

WOMEN

Woman's Nightmare
No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

ALLIES OF SANTA CLAUS IN MAKING POOR CHILDREN HAPPY

Following are the names of many generous contributors in the last few days to the Post-Dispatch Christmas Fund for the poor little ones of St. Louis. The pressure of news today forbids the printing in this issue of the complete unpublished list, but more acknowledgments will follow as rapidly as possible. Every contribution will be recorded.

QUEER CUSTOM OF EXCHANGING CHILDREN IN SWITZERLAND.

Switzerland is divided into several states called cantons, and in some of these the people speak French, in others German and in others Italian. The Swiss parent desiring that his boy or girl shall learn all these languages first teaches the language of the home canton, then exchanges for the child of parents living in a canton where another language is spoken, where it stays until it masters that language, then is again exchanged to a canton where the third language is spoken. In every language Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound is a synonym for health. It cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Constipation and all Diseases of the Blood. Thirty days' treatment costs 25c at any drug store.

YOU WILL BE ALL SMILES AGAIN.

Forget Your Stomach and You'll Have a Santa Claus Face.

HOW TO DO IT.

If there is one thing more than all others that will give a man a forlorn and friendless appearance and make him morbid and "cranky" and disagreeable, that thing is dyspepsia. It makes one forget his friends and become morose and irritable. He is so wrapped up in his own misery that he is inconsiderate of every one else. Relieved of this terrible and depressing ailment, he again becomes a good fellow and a man among men.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are beyond question the most effective and popular remedy ever offered to the sufferers of this terrible disease. The thousands and thousands of cures they have brought about and the enormous increase of their sales fully attest the truth of this statement.

They are, above all, a natural remedy. They possess exactly the same properties that the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach possess and they actually do the digestive work of the stomach and enable that organ to rest and recuperate and become sound and well. They act in a mild, natural manner and cause no disturbance in the digestive organs. They prevent any fermentation of the food which causes sour stomach. In fact, under their influence the subject forgets that he has a stomach and his resulting cheerfulness presents a great contrast to his former dejection.

Millions of boxes of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold annually and they are but in the dawn of their popularity. Every mail brings letters of thanksgiving from grateful ones who have been cured of this terrible disease. The following is one of hundreds received each week:

Rev. J. R. Hoag of Wymore, Neb., writes: "For six years I have been troubled with dyspepsia. Last fall I became very much alarmed at some symptoms of heart trouble and came to believe there was a sympathetic relation between the two diseases, or rather, that the stomach trouble was the cause of the heart disturbances. I hit upon Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for a remedy and invested a dollar and a half for three boxes, which lasted me three months, and I can eat any kind of food I want and have a good, vigorous appetite. Although I am 77 years old, I now feel perfectly well and without being requested by anyone I make this statement as a compliment to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

DYSPEPSIA.

Geo. S. Scally of 75 Nassau St., New York, says: "For years I have been troubled with rheumatism and dyspepsia, and I came to the conclusion to try your pills. I immediately found great relief from their use; I feel like a new man since I commenced taking them, and would not now be without them. The drowsy, sleepy feeling I used to have has entirely disappeared. The dyspepsia has left me and my rheumatism is gone entirely. I am satisfied if anyone so afflicted will give Radway's Pills a trial they will surely cure them, for I believe it all comes from the system being out of order—the liver not doing its work."

CORBETT WILL WEIGH IN TODAY

Champion Will Go on the Scales in Public—Says He Will Be Down to 132

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—This is a red letter day in Corbett's training camp. It is the day when he hopes to set at rest all the mutterings about his overweight and bad condition that have been going the rounds.

Corbett, in short, announced yesterday that he will today, after his work-out, weigh in, publicly.

It has been stated that Corbett is nothing like at the 129 pounds—the figure he will have to meet at 6 p. m. on the day he fights Hanlon.

It was also stated that Corbett made weight as fast as he took it off; that he would lose a heavy forfeit when he weighed in, and that he might even be so far over weight that Hanlon would refuse to go on with him.

Before his hard work-out yesterday Corbett reported that he scaled 134½ pounds, or five and one-half pounds over the figure he will have to weigh in at seven days later.

Corbett claims he is right where he wants to be and that he can come down gradually to the figure required at weighing-in time. He expects to weigh about 132 when he gets on the scales this afternoon in public. This will leave him an easy descent to 129. He claims he can take three pounds off in an afternoon of roadwork.

Corbett still shows that rotund appearance of the stomach which has always led observers to believe that he neglects training. His body never shows that muscular development usually found in fighters. This is nearly always covered with a layer of what appears to be fat. Work how he will, Corbett never gets rid of this tissue. Otherwise the champion appears in excellent fettle.

Most of his indoor training is confined to wrestling and such tactics as lead his friends to believe he anticipates a long bout. George Sanfanson, the "Arctic wonder," and Monte Attell, Abe's brother, are his best sparring partners. Attell was floored yesterday by a terrific hook from Corbett's glove, but gamely got up and went ahead with his work.

Over at Hanlon's quarters training is conducted quietly but thoroughly. An examination of Hanlon by a physician resulted in the announcement that the little Frisco scrapper was never in better shape in his life.

DANAHER'S DODGE IS A BOOMERANG

His Fast Filly, Silver Meade, Wins With Ease at a Short Price From Trossachs.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 23.—Foxy Mike Danaher thought he was fooling people when his filly Silver Meade ran unplaced in the sixth race last Friday. Silver Meade had moved some fast trials and her failure to race to her morning work-outs was a severe disappointment to every clocker at the track. Danaher could have got 10 to 1 against Silver Meade that day, but he evidently wanted a longer price.

Salling, doubtless, had orders to save Silver Meade for another day. If such was the case, Danaher must have had a fit when he went into the betting ring yesterday and saw 2 to 1 against Silver Meade. Archie Zimmer thought he could beat Silver Meade with Tim Sullivan's Trossachs. Quite a number of other people thought the same way. Zimmer and his cohorts were badly mistaken. The "dope" says that Silver Meade won by a head. The finish was close, but Salling had instructions not to win too far off and nearly tossed the race in a bungling effort to draw a close finish. Fuller rode a superb race on Trossachs.

Nothing but Fuller's magnificent riding effort could have landed Little Jack Horner first in the second. Scorpio was really the best. Starter Fitzgerald's assistant had Scorpio by the bridle when the field was sent away. Trotter's big sprinter got off next to last and was running over horses at the finish. He closed a lot of ground in the stretch and was clearly the best horse.

Cardinal Wolsey ran to his true form Tuesday. He beat the Preliminary Derby winner, Dutiful, in the most impressive manner. Cardinal Wolsey shot to the front under wraps at the start and Dutiful could never get to him.

"Doc" Street fooled the smartest players here with the cardinal. The colt's race was a revelation to the keenest turfites at the track.

Albert Simons was caught napping when Low Cut won at 20 to 1. Albert let the Lamplighter filly run loose, while Ed Trotter and a number of others of the smart set backed the filly from 20s to 10s at post time. It was the first mount Gannon has had in over a week. Nothing but his powerful effort in the saddle could have landed Low Cut in front.

Mr. Pickwick and Talhouet completely outclassed their field in the sixth race. Bad riders succeeded in making a contest out of what would otherwise have been a cake walk for one of them. While Niblack was breaking it off in chunks on Talhouet, Salling tried every way he knew how to throw his race away on Mr. Pickwick. The horse simply ran away under him, however, and won from Talhouet by a half length.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Pitcher Rhoades, who formerly worked for St. Louis and then went over to Cleveland, is slated for a trade or sale to Detroit.

The Tigers are figuring on getting Tannehill of New York and Coughlin. Cleveland has declined to let Pitcher Stoval go to them, and the same thing will probably happen with the other two men sought.

Frank Farrell of the New Yorks says he has virtually secured Pitcher Hughes from Boston and Unglaub from Milwaukee. He will give Tannehill for Hughes.

The Boston Nationals will get rid of some of the veterans this year, if trades are possible.

Washington lost money last season, but still finds a way to increase the salaries of its officers.

Garry Hermann is opposed to the reappointment of Tim Hurst to the National League umpire staff.

A South Atlantic League has been formed by Ted Sullivan.

The Washington question is a complex one for the league to handle, and will require some considerable work yet before it is cleared up.

Clark Griffith, manager of the New York American League team, upholds the magnates of that organization in their efforts to reduce the salaries of ball players. At the same time he is a stanch opponent of salary "cutting," as the term is meant, regarding salaries already contracted for.

HARD GAME FOR THE INDIANS TONIGHT

L. A. GILLENWATER

WHERE IS THIS BOWLER'S OLD TIME FORM?

Questions About Sport Answered

C. W. G.—Will Haughton bring off the Attell fight Jan. 7? Space forbids our solving any conundrums in this column.

Subscriber.—What is the greatest racehorse in the country? Generally it is the horse you didn't bet on. A more definite answer may be obtained by writing the names McChesney, Dick Welles and Waterboy on three separate slips, close your eyes and take one. That will be about as close as you can expect to the correct reply.

Fight Fan.—Did ever a fighter continue actively in the ring at the age of Fitzsimmons now? Kindly mail an authoritative statement of how old Fitz is and we will give the right answer.

Tout.—When a horse fouls another in the stretch and wins, when they disqualify the offender why do they place him last instead of second? Presumably to make sure that you can cash no part of your ticket. It is the only reason that can be urged.

Reader.—Rube Waddell's contract for next season at Philadelphia calls for him to pitch 40 games, after which he will be at liberty. eH ought not to be, however.

Billings.—What is meant by "class" in a thoroughbred? Class implies consistent ability to refuse to run for the books. It is a possession that enables a horse that can run 1:14 in trials to run to it in a race. If you stick to the horse that has it you will not always walk home from the races.

Lebanon.—You say you can throw 14 curves and have great speed and want to know what you can do with your stock in trade? You might hire out to Ted Kennedy as a pitching machine. The best way is to get some of your local managers to recommend you to a major league club.

ATTELL IS ALSO GETTING HEAVY

Abie's Next Fight Will Be at Nothing Less Than 122 Pounds, Intimate Friends Say

According to an intimate friend of Abe Attell, if that fighter is brought back here to fight Harry Forbes, Jan. 7, it will be at a different weight than was scheduled for the contest called off Dec. 17.

Says Attell's friend:

"Abe told me before he left that he never expected to meet Forbes at 118 pounds or to make a match that way again. Attell is no longer the bantamweight he was, and is taken on flesh of late. A few days before the date of the proposed fight while he was in training, Attell was still weighing 125 pounds, and was manifestly anxious about his ability to reach 118 pounds at 6 p. m.

"You can gamble that when Attell meets Forbes next it will be at 122 pounds, 6 p. m., if he can possibly get Forbes to grant the concession.

"Attell was glad in more ways than one that he was not asked to go on last Thursday. His little finger was in bad shape, and to jab with his left gave him considerable pain."

Haughton still insists that the match as it stood last week will be booked for early next year.

TURF TALK.

"Doc" Street's methods of management of race horses has aroused some hostile criticisms at New Orleans.

English racing has put beef on Danny Maher. He now weighs 120 pounds, and is barely able to make 113 for a race.

Jake Marklein disposed of Laura F. M. and Brissac on the coast the other day. Both horses raced at Highland Park.

Canejo and Dupont are two of the good ones in Green B. Morris' stable that will be uncovered in the East next season.

Jake Holtman has taken Dick Dwyer's place at Ingleside. Dwyer will wield the flag at the coming meeting at Los Angeles.

E. R. Thomas and the Shields brothers will have a strong stable next year. Of course, Hermis and Lady Amelia are the stars.

One of the best long-distance horses in France at the present time is Arizona. This horse was also raced successfully in this country.

The jockeys riding on the coast this winter, taken as a whole, are the worst ever seen on a California track, according to press reports.

BOSTON CANNOT CLAIM NICHOLS

Kansas City Manager Is Free to Come to Cardinals if He So Decides

No light was shed on the question of whether Charles Nichols of the Kansas City Western League team will manage the Cardinals next year, through his brief stay in St. Louis yesterday.

The Kansas City man admits conferring with Robison, but states that he had reached no agreement with the St. Louis team owner.

It is probable that Nichols does not care to tie himself up until he learns more of the fate of the Kansas City team and the Western league.

Nichols would prefer to continue as manager and part owner at Kansas City, to running the Cardinals.

A story was around yesterday to the effect that Nichols was not at liberty to work for the Messrs. Robison as he had an express agreement with Boston when he left that team, that if he ever returned to the big league the Hub club would have first claim on him.

This story was nullified by the virtual recognition of an unwritten law to the effect that no contracts with players can go back of the peace pact.

Nichols says he would be delighted to take charge of the Cardinals if he were free, and if he does see his way to accept the offer, he believes the Cardinals can be improved.

Mullin Wants an Extra Thousand

WABASH, Ind., Dec. 23.—Pitcher George Mullin of the Detroit American League team, who is spending the holidays here, says that he will not consent to his transfer to the New York team unless he is granted an advance in salary from $4000 to $5000.

Dallas Gets St. Louis' Moran

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 23.—President Herrmann of the National Baseball Commission learned when he went into the case of C. B. Moran, the Dallas, Tex., player that St. Louis had surrendered all claims to Moran and he could be awarded to Dallas without dispute. Moran was tried out in St. Louis last fall.

Williams-Walsh Bout a Draw.

PUEBLO, Colo., Dec. 23.—Morgan Williams of Pueblo and Andy Walsh of Montreal fought ten rounds to a draw before the Rover Club last night.

Master Builders' Officers

Two hundred members attended the annual banquet of the Master Builders' Association in their rooms in the Odd Fellows' building. The annual election followed the banquet. The following officers were elected: Hiram Lloyd, president; Charles D. Morley, first vice president; William R. Wilson, second Wickwine John Low, treasurer; D. Evans

Choctaws of the Junior Association Will Bowl the Strong Rialtos on the Royal Alleys.

TONIGHT'S BOWLING GAMES

JUNIOR ASSOCIATION—Rialtos vs. Choctaws, Royal alleys; Cabannes vs. Haupts, Crescent alleys; Hiawathas vs. Office Men, Acme alleys.

KINDERGARTEN LEAGUE — Tigers vs. Eads, Royal alleys.

WESTERN R. C. LEAGUE—Intermediates at home to Juniors.

OFFICE MEN'S LEAGUE—Centurys vs. Cyclers, club alleys.

First and second place teams in the Junior Association cocked-hat race will fight it out tonight on the Royal alleys. The Rialtos are leading the league with the Choctaws second and with the first series about over and the Rialtos 7 games to the good, the Indians are in very bad. Two other matches are scheduled in the Junior tonight winding up the 75 games for all the clubs. The Cabannes have a look-in for second place, they being but one game behind the Choctaws. The other three teams are tied three games behind the third place five and tonight's bowling can make a lot of changes in the standings.

The Central league battle last night between the Office Men and the Crescents was off color. The Crescents last year won out both series and led in the team average up to the very last match of the season when the Acmes went to the front. Last night the Crescents, with a different personnel, rolled at 43 1-25 average, figures that were beaten by several of the "minor" leagues last night. The O. M. C.'s notwithstanding could only win 3 games out of 5. No 50 averages developed, Kicker's 49 2-5 being the nearest approach to it.

Gillenwater, who once was rated a steady man for between 46 and 50 average, last night put up the beautiful total of 41 2-5 for 5 games.

Pueser League Does Best Bowling

The Pueser league turned up the best bowling last night. In the match between the Pastimes and the Centrals, Zastrow did the record stunt of the evening by averaging 58 3-5 for five games. Five cocked pins and 14 misses were his other figures.

Eddie Boyle did something in the science department when he rolled 9 center punches and 8 misses with an average of 54 3-5.

The Crystals made a timely substitution in their match with the Hyde Parks that won at least one game and saved them from a worse defeat than the 3 to 2 scroe they finished with. Little started in to bowl fourth man and rolled 29 the first game and 40 the second. Lewis was substituted and his three subsequent games were 52, 52 and 60.

Dutzi did the honors in the Kindergarten league match between the Clippers and Ozarks last night. With nice breaks he rolled a 55 2-5 average, with 18 misses.

PUGILISTIC NOTES

WEDNESDAY'S BOXING BOUTS

At Chicago—Gus Bezenah vs. Tom Scully.
At Chicago—Henry Fagin vs. Otto Sieloff.
At Wildwood, Ky.—John Dancer vs. George Sims.
At Boston—Jack Blackburn vs. Sam Langford.

Jack Blackburn and Sam Langford, two fighters who recently outpointed Lightweight Champion Joe Gans, are scheduled to box ten rounds at Boston tonight.

Kid Carter, who is now resting up at West Baden after a hard campaign, says that within ten days he will issue a challenge to both Tom Sharkey and Jack Monroe.

Gus Gardner, the clever Philadelphia lightweight, and Joe Grim, the Italian human punching bag, of Philadelphia, have been matched to meet for ten rounds at catch weights before a club in Saginaw, Mich., on January 1, New Year's Day. This will be Grim's first appearance in that city.

The Metropolitan Athletic Club of Detroit, having failed in its effort to rematch Willie Fitzgerald and Mike Ward, is trying to get Jack O'Keefe of Chicago for a bout with Fitzgerald for a January date.

The Lansing, Mich., Athletic Club is making a match for Dec. 30 between Joe Cherry, the little fellow who put it over Tommy Feltz, and Paddy Nee, the Pittsburg scrapper.

Henry Clobb of Detroit has an offer to box Jack McClelland of Pittsburg before a Toronto club in January.

Charley Neary, the Milwaukee fighter, will take on a hard game when he meets Aurelia Herrera at Milwaukee, Jan. 8.

On Christmas night, Jack Munroe will box six rounds with Dunne McDonald, the old-time champion of the Northwest, in Butte, Mont.

Jimmy Briggs and Tommy Mowatt will clash in Chicago on Jan. 4, one of the new clubs booking the bout, which should be a good one.

Jim Scanlon's many Pittsburg followers are willing to bet something that he can best Jack O'Brien. The men are matched for Jan. 15.

Gus Bezenah, who has been boxing so well in St. Louis, will be given a chance in Chicago on Wednesday night in one of the bouts of the Ninth Ward Guards' initial entertainment.

John Willie and Billy Stift will meet at the next show of the Chicago A. A. on Saturday night.

There is a chance that Jack Root and Marvin Hart will be the attraction before one of the Chicago clubs shortly.

Wiggs Not Ambitious.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 23.—James Wiggs, for whose services the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Washington American League clubs have been negotiating, has signed the contract to play with the Salt Lake year.

BY THE KNOCKER

Munroe is a versatile athlete. If he ever loses his pugilistic job the "Miner" can easily become an oresman.

"Wizard" Schafer may no longer be billiard champion, but his name sounds better than that of Sutton to conjure with.

"I don't see how I can improve my club," says Johnny McGraw of the Giants. Is it possible Muggy's eyesight is failing?

The importance of baseball is attested by the fact that the vice-president of the United States gets $2000 a year less than the president of the American League. According to the ratio, a racing judge ought to be running a dead heat with President Roosevelt.

Bookmaker Barry Brolaski is reported to have lost $40,000 since the Frisco races started. How much he won in the same period was not stated.

New Orleans bookmakers complain that they handle an average of but $2000 during a day's races. Still, that is $2000 more than the public handles after the day's racing. The sordid bookie does not seem to understand that the public is doing the best it can to help him along.

There is only one safe way to make the bookmaker pay you. That is to own a racetrack. Where it is possible, be the bookmaker himself.

If you are just starting in to bowl, it is well to remember that a cock pin is nothing to crow about.

It might almost be said that J. P. Donovan has a very "retiring" disposition.

Jack Munroe is now on his way to Butte, Mont. Jack is the boy to take a tip from a friend. It has been suggested many times that he go back to the mines.

That episode of the English horse which went to sleep in a race is, after all, nothing new. "Sleepers" at St. Louis tracks are the rule and not the exception. Every now and then you read about one of them waking up.

It looks rather foolish in Young Corbett to attempt to "make weight" for his next fight by taking it off.

Examination revealed the fact that Jim Jeffries' arm is bent. This is not the first instance of man becoming crooked through prize-fighting.

Young Corbett has a pugilist in his training quarters named Sampson who is called the "Arctic Wonder." He will probably prove a frost.

Now that we have the light heavyweight prize-fighting class, why not establish another one called the heavy lightweight division. It is well to be accommodating to our champions.

An exchange heads an article "Crescent City Racing Intelligence." Can this be satire?

Treasurer Frank Farrell of the American League, after saying that there will be war over Joles and Davis in the baseball world, adds: "Our clubs are all in good shape." Very belligerent.

"TWIN" SULLIVAN LOSES FIGHT BY DISABLED EYE

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 23.—Jack "Twin" Sullivan could not fight well with only one eye open for business and for that reason he lost in four rounds the advantage he had gained over Jack O'Brien in the first nine of their fight here last night.

In the thirteenth Sullivan closed an eye for O'Brien and the men mixed it evenly, but O'Brien got the decision. Sullivan pushed the fighting from the start and was making things look mighty bad for O'Brien's fancy leads, when he failed to stop one billed for his optic. When the lamp went out of service Sullivan's disadvantage was apparent.

JENKINS' TITLE NOW UNDISPUTED

Champion Wrestler of America Will Go to Europe Soon to Meet Hagenschmidt

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Tom Jenkins of Cleveland, O., is now the undisputed champion of America. In a well-fought match at Madison Square Garden last night, Jenkins won two out of three falls from Dan McLeod, Canadian champion.

The winner of the match goes to England shortly, where he will wrestle Hagenschmidt for the world's championship.

Last night's match was exciting from the start. The strangle, most dangerous of all holds, was not barred, and both men tried repeatedly to get it on the other.

Neither of the three falls recorded were obtained from the direct employment of this means of wrestling offense.

McLeod was strong at the start. He forced matters on the champion and in 9 minutes and 52 seconds secured a half Nelson from which Jenkins was unable to get away without going to the mat.

The crowd cheered for McLeod, but Jenkins proceeded more carefully in the second bout. At the end of 22 minutes and 23 seconds by means of a bar lock and quarter Nelson he had tied the falls up by putting McLeod down.

Jenkins was much the stronger in the final fall and a half Nelson ended the match in favor of the Cleveland man after 10 minutes and 39 seconds of work.

Jenkins now has a clean title to the American championship. He has defeated McLeod in every even-up match but one, and on that accasion he lost the deciding fall through injury.

"PITTSBURG PHIL" STILL OUT.

Jockey Club Stewards Lay Many Motions for Reinstatement on Table

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—George E. Smith's ("Pittsburg Phil") request for a rehearing of his case, whereby his entries are refused, was laid upon the table by the stewards of the Jockey club at their regular meeting. Last May the stewards refused to receive any further entries from Smith and about the same time they revoked the license of his jocky, Shaw. Repeated efforts have been made for reinstatement.

The application of James Hagen for reinstatement was also laid upon the table. That of R. H. Brown, said to be a member of the Metropolitan Turf association and the owner of the mare If You Dare, which was declared by the Brighton Beach stewards to have been artificially "stimulated" during the July meeting, was denied.

Fears the American Girl Golfer

LONDON, Dec. 23.—"The smart appearance of the American golf girl in her well-cut dress and her evident playing ability made me think that England will have a hard time retaining her lead," says Miss Rona Adair, the champion woman golfer of England and Ireland, on her return from an American trip.

White and Sheppard to Play

Albert Howe and Ed Green are the contestants in the afternoon games of the French pool tournament at the Broadway and Claude White and G. M. Sheppard for the night match. Arthur Clayton and M. J. Balzheiser won Tuesday's games, Clayton defeating Frank Dumont and Balzheiser defeating Walter Alcoke.

Declines the Cornell Offer

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 23.—Dr. Albert Hayes Sharpe, the best all-around athlete that ever graduated from Yale, has declined to become director of the Cornell gymnasium because the position would allow him no time for the practice of medicine.

ECZEMA SETS THE SKIN ON FIRE

No disease causes so much bodily discomfort, or itches, burns and stings like Eczema. Beginning often with a slight redness of the skin it gradually spreads, followed by pustules or blisters from which a gummy, sticky fluid oozes which dries and scales off or forms bad looking sores and scabs. It appears on different parts of the body but oftenest upon the back, arms, hands, legs and face, and is a veritable torment at times, especially at night or when overheated.

In 1896 I experienced at times patches on the inside of my hands that itched and burned, causing much discomfort. As time went by it grew worse, and I was convinced that I was afflicted with Eczema. I consulted several physicians and a number of specialists, and used several external applications, receiving but slight temporary relief. In February I decided to try S. S. S., and in less than a month I experienced a change for the better, and by May all symptoms had disappeared, and I found myself entirely cured, and have had no return of the disease since. W. P. BRUSH, Manager Stockman's Advertising Agency, Station A, Kansas City, Mo.

The cause of Eczema is a too acid and general unhealthy condition of the blood. The terrifying itching and burning is produced by the overflow through the glands and pores of the skin of the fiery poisons with which the blood-current is over-loaded. While external applications, such as washes, soaps, salves and powers are soothing and cooling they do not enter into the blood itself or touch the real cause of the disease, but S. S. S. does, and purifies, enriches, and strengthens the thin acid blood and cleanses and builds up the general system, when the skin clears off and Eczema with all its terrifying symptoms disappears.

Poorhouse Physician Sent Crashing Through Glass Door by Blow From Colleague

$2 FOR EACH DEATH REPORT

Right of Chief of Staff to Sign All Death Certificates Was Disputed

Dr. Harry Greensfelder, a City Poorhouse physician, has a black eye and a bruised face as a result of the protest he made to the chief physician, Dr. R. Emmet Keany, against the latter filling out death certificates in cases which he had not personally attended.

Dr. Greensfelder and Dr. Keany discussed their differences briefly in the hallway near the entrance to the poorhouse, and then Dr. Keany landed several jolting blows which sent Dr. Greensfelder crashing through the windows in the vestibule.

The charges and countercharges of the physicians were presented to prosecuting officials, but it was stated Wednesday that the matter would probably be dropped.

Dr. Greensfelder, who applied for a warrant for Dr. Keany immediately after the fight, has decided, it is said, not to prosecute his superior.

The death of Mrs. Mary Georgen, 74 years old, a patient whom Dr. Greensfelder had attended, was the occasion for the clash between the physicians.

Mrs. Georgen carried two life insurance policies. The rules of several insurance companies specify that the death certificate presented to them when a policy holder dies shall be filled out and signed by the physician who last attended the deceased.

In Mrs. Georgen's case her daughter called at the poorhouse to have the policy filled out, and Dr. Keany performed the service, although, according to Dr. Greensfelder, he had never attended Mrs. Georgen or inspected the body.

The fee for this service is $2 for each certificate, which, it is said, Mrs. Georgen's daughter paid to Dr. Keany.

Dr. Keany's action was brought to the attention of Dr. Greensfelder by inquiries by agents of one insurance company, made after the death certificate had been tendered. When he met Dr. Keany in the hall, he immediately brought up the subject.

The discussion was brief. Dr. Greensfelder declared that his chief, who had not attended Mrs. Georgen, had no right to make out her death certificate, that the office of chief physician gave him no such authority, and that he was the only physician qualified to sign.

Dr. Keany replied that his position as chief physician qualified him to sign the certificates of all poorhouse inmates who died there.

He grew angry as he talked, and emphasized his last sentences with three or four telling blows on Dr. Greensfelder's face. The latter staggered under their force, and, when they were followed by more russhes, he crashed backward through the windows in the vestibule about the door. Mrs. Ella Jentgess, supervisor of the poorhouse, ran in and found Dr. Greensfelder unconscious on the floor.

Dr. Keany has been connected with the poorhouse only two weeks, having been placed there as chief physician over Dr. Greensfelder, who has been connected with the institution several months.

DEATH LURKED IN SOUP BOWL

Inquest Is Held Over the Body of Easton Avenue Heights Man Who Died From Poisoning

An inquest wah held Wednesday on the body of Conrad Schaefer, aged 60 years, of Easton Avenue Heights, who died early Tuesday morning after an illness of a few hours.

Schaefer's death is believed to have been due to poisoning from soup which he had at supper Monday evening. Both he and his wife partook of it. Within an hour the man was seized with a violent attack of cramps. Mrs. Schaefer waited on him until 10 o'clock when she was stricken. A doctor was summoned and Mrs. Schaefer was saved by a prompt administering of antidotes.

Ten members of the fire department have been detailed for duty in the department stores downtown until after the holidays. sent out on a search him him, and Mrs. Polleck remained at the station an hour in the hope that he would be brought in for her identification. But no trace of the robber was found.

WOMAN ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT ON WEST PINE BOULEVARD

Mrs. L. Hannauer, who resides with her husband at the Lorraine apartments, 4300 Lindell boulevard, was attacked by a highwayman at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon on West Pine boulevard, between Vandeventer avenue and Sarah street.

The man wrenched from Mrs. Hannauer's right hand a large automobile purse, containing $6, and then escaped, the screams of the victim and other women who had witnessed the attack failing to cause any one to pursue him.

Mrs. Hannauer was so unnerved by the attack that she was compelled to call to a man who appeared soon after the robbery to help her to the residence of her aunt in the same neighborhood. She is still suffering from the shock.

"I had been visiting friends at 4001 West Pine, and on leaving their house I started to walk west on Pine, intending to walk out home. I noticed a fairly well-dressed man walking east on the opposite side of the street and looking across at me. I had read of highwaymen, but had no fear that I would be attacked in broad daylight, but when I saw him come straight for me I clenched my purse as tightly as I could in my right hand.

"Walking west, my purse was swinging on the inside; that is, on the opposite side to which he approached me. He went around me, then passed me on the right side and grabbed my purse.

"Oh, please, don't," I said, or something like that. All he said was, "Yes, I will," and he pulled at the purse. I held so tightly that the top fastening broke and remained in my hand, while he secured the rest of the purse.

"When he had the purse he ran across the street and through the immense vacant lot running from Pine to Laclede. I screamed 'robber' and 'help,' and ladies who saw the robbery from their windows screamed 'police,' but there was no policeman in sight."

HOTEL THIEF GETS KEY AND ACTOR SKINNER'S CLOTHES

House detectives, police, keys and and clerks do not make property in hotels safe. Otis Skinner, the actor, returned to the Planters' Hotel Wednesday morning to find that his room, No. 432, had been ransacked by burglars during his absence, and $500 worth of clothing and other property taken. The room was in the utmost confusion, clothing having been thrown on the floor, papers scattered about and cigar stubs left.

The loss consisted principally of three suits of clothing, the best Mr. Skinner possessed, an overcoat and several boxes of choice cigars.

Mr. Skinner reached the hotel about 1 o'clock. When he asked for his key at the desk he was told it was not there. He took a pass-key and went to his room, but found the door unlocked.

The clerks were unable to explain how the key had been given out.

DARK LANTERN A WEAPON FOR PUGNACIOUS BURGLAR

Joseph Peterson and a burglar fought desperately in Mr. Peterson's home, 1329 Blackstone avenue, the burglar fighting for liberty and Mr. Peterson to save his property and to capture the man.

Mr. Peterson was knocked down by the burglar, who escaped, but really won the fight, in that he caused the burglar to drop most of his plunder and captured a dark lantern. The lantern was dropped after it had been used as a weapon to fell Mr. Peterson.

The thief gained entrance through a back door on which he used a skeleton key. He awakened Mr. Peterson by opening a dresser drawer. After knocking him down, he escaped through the open door and dropped most of his plunder in an effort to get over the back fence. His only booty was two children's bracelets, valued at $5.

A negro hid under the bed in Morris Lipshitz's living rooms in rear of his store, 1001 Biddle street, and, after Mr. Lipshitz had retired, was ransacking the rooms. Lipshitz awoke, drove the negro away and called the police in time to see him running. Herbert Davis was arrested with part of the booty in his possession.

The residence of M. L. Stern, 4604 Westminster place, was robbed of $200 worth of clothing while the family slept. Nothing was heard of the burglars. Entrance was gained through a basement window.

Burglars who gained entrance to the residence of F. H. Ingalls, 5581 Cabanne avenue, by a porch window, took a $95 overcoat.

Miss Lizzie Foster, 16 years old, lost a purse, $2.40 and a watch to a negro who jumped from a doorway on Wash street, between High and Twelfth streets. Several negroes saw the theft. Miss Foster lives at 5162 San Francisco avenue.

Miss Anna Paron of 4348 DeSoto avenue thinks the negro who fell at her feet on Whittier avenue, between McPherson and Maryland avenues, intended to seize her purse. A plank across the mouth of the alley explained his fall.

A negro hidden behind one of the large bridge pillars grabbed Miss Minnie Crispy's purse as she passed under the bridge on her way home at 813 North Levee. She had $1.50 in the purse.

Frank Steret of 1727 Texas avenue took a near cut to get home. As he was passing through the alley in the rear of 1803 South Jefferson avenue he met two negroes, who delayed him long enough to take $5, all he had with him.

Did Not Bear Battle Scars

Dallas Terrill of 2634 Lawton avenue was promptly placed in a cell at the Central station when he called to report the loss of $2.40 belonging to Druggist Samuel Pickett of 2601 Lawton avenue. Terrill told a harrowing tale of the beating he had sustained at the hands of highway robbers, who met him on Lawton avenue between Jefferson avenue and Twenty-third street. His appearance, the police said, did not sustain the fight story.

The prisoners held by the police against whom definite charges are made are:

Leopold Levine, identified by Catherine May as a highwayman.

Elick Peair, identified by Miss Emma Brooks as a highwayman.

William Weir, William Hillis and John McGiven, robbery.

Solomon Jefferson, identified by Mrs. McSorley as a highwayman.

A jury in Judge McDonald's division deliberated less than five minutes in sen[illegible]cing Harry Caton to five years in the [illegible]tentiary for highway robbery. Caton was charged with robbing Lyman R. Favereau of 4308 Forest Park boulevard and several other men.

BULLET PROOF UNDERWEAR FOR ST. LOUIS POLICEMEN

Phil Holland of Chicago, known as an authority on criminals by every police chief in the country, called on Chief of Police Kiely Wednesday and presented him with a sample of bullet-proof cloth such as the body guards of the Czar of Russia wear, suggesting that suits of the stuff might help the St. Louis police in capturing highwaymen and burglars.

As a suit costs $500, Chief Kiely will probably consult the police board before having uniforms made of it.

The cloth is of close-woven raw silk. It is the invention of Casimar Zeglan, a Polish priest in Chicago. Tests have proven that 44-calibre pistol bullets will not pierce it. Holland says he wore a suit and was shot at with 38-calibre pistols, feeling no effects other than if he had been struck with a stick on the chest.

VICTIM OF HIGHWAYMEN IDENTIFIES SUSPECTS

Frank McDaniels and Thomas O'Connell, arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in a number of recent highway robberies, were identified Wednesday by Charles Peterson, who says they are two of the four men who robbed him in O'Brien's saloon at 1327 Market street Saturday night.

F. B. Schoenen of 1511 Biddle street, suspected of being implicated in a number of recent safe robberies, was "sweated" Wednesday by Chief of Detectives Desmond.

In December, 1901, Schoenen and four brothers-in-law were caught robbing the safe at Peterson's laundry, 2234 Chouteau avenue. For this crime he was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. He was released Sept. 5 last.

Meets Instant Death in Quarry.

The jury in the inquest held over the body of Daniel Donnavan, a laborer who was killed Monday afternoon at the rock quarry at Vigus, near Creve Coeur Lake, returned a verdict of accidental death. Donnavan and a fellow laborer, David Taylor, were caught in a slide of rock. Taylor sustained a dislocated shoulder. Donnavan was killed instantly.

NEW YEAR'S REST FOR CAB HORSES

Unless present plans are abandoned, all the cabmen and carriage drivers of St. Louis will go out on strike Jan. 1.

William Reynolds, manager of the union, says the men are willing to arbitrate their demands for increases in wages of 20 to 30 per cent over the present scale. He adds that the St. Louis Liverymen's Association refuses to arbitrate.

Officers of the Liverymen's Association declare they will never concede to the demands of the drivers.

Officers of the several local unions of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters say that if the Citizens' Industrial Association attempts to interfere with the strike, 5000 teamsters will be called out in sympathy and that the traffic of all freight will be stopped.

Two thousand teamsters, members of various unions, met in general mass meeting last night and were addressed by international officers.

Working Men Prone to Consumption.

A Letter from Miles Dougherty, the Great Labor Leader.

This newspaper has published recently the records of many cases of consumption that have been cured by Prof. Hoff's prescription for consumption as prepared by Dr. Hoff's American Bureau.

Another case that will interest the country generally and especially men engaged in industrial pursuits, is given to the Bureau by Miles Dougherty, who, as a general officer of the United Mine Workers of America, is well and favorably known to thousands of persons in all parts of the country.

Miners, iron workers and factory workers generally are more than ordinarily subject to the ravages of consumption from the very nature of their work. Mr. Dougherty tried the Hoff cure for his son. What its effect was may be seen from this letter, as well as what it is doing for men whose means of making a living drives them into dark and damp mines which are breeders of the disease:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
Enclosed find $5, for which please send me six bottles of the medicine that you last sent me—that is, Prof. Hoff's Consumption Cure.
There are so many people asking about your medicine that I wish you would kindly send me about two dozen books, as I wish them all to read about the Cure and the benefit therein contained.
My little son is gaining in weight since he started to take the medicine. He has a wonderful appetite, and is now a great eater. His complexion and general appearance are very much improved.
About my miner friend, I might say that it is wonderful what a change the medicine has made in him for the better. Before getting the medicine he intended to lay idle on account of his sickness, but the medicine has helped so much that he has been able to continue at work.
With compliments of the season, yours truly, MILES DOUGHERTY,
Address District No. 9, United Mine Workers of America, Shamokin, Pa.

Physicians are chary, indeed, about recommending other doctors' medicines. They know, however, that Hoff's Cure is not a patent medicine, and since Prof. Brouardel, the French medical savant, said it was the duty of all physicians to tell patients that consumption is curable they are freely doing so and prescribing Hoff's Cure:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
Enclosed find $1.00, for which send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Remedy. I have not yet asked anything of it that it did not bring about.
A. W. GUILEY, M. D., 413 Centre St., South Easton, Pa.

Here is a man engaged in praiseworthy efforts to do all the good he may for his brother man. He is one link to the endless chain of mercy that is being forged by the Hoff Cure all over the land:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
I enclose you herewith $1.00 money order, for which I will thank you to send me another bottle of Prof. Hoff's Consumption Cure. The marked benefit in my family has made it incumbent on me to cure up my neighbors," so it seems, and that's what I am doing with it.
THOMAS E. GOURAN, 918 Spencer st., Peoria, Ill.

When the first bottle of Hoff's Cure is taken the effects are so marked that patients have faith in it. They believe a permanent cure is at least possible, and that is more faith than any other consumption remedy has ever aroused. Conviction grows with every succeeding bottle and the cure quickly follows:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
Enclosed find $1.00, for which please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure. This is my third bottle, and the results have been wonderful. I have all the confidence in the world in the remedy and believe it will cure me if I give it a fair trial.
W. F. SHEPHERD, 712 Hamilton st., Cleveland, Ohio.
Address the Cleveland Theatrical Stage Employees' Union.

One positive indication that bronchial affections, asthma and catarrhal bronchitis lead unerringly to dread consumption is the unquestioned fact that THE ONLY KNOWN CONSUMPTIVE CURE also cures these troubles. George Rutherford, out in Nevada, has cause to feel thankful that this is true:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
Enclosed herewith find money order, for which please send me one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure. I have no testimonial to offer in this letter, further than that I think I am entirely cured of the bronchial asthma, and I think I am greatly improved in the catarrhal bronchitis, all through the use of Prof. Hoff's Consumption Cure. I propose to continue with the use of the treatment for the next three months, or more if necessary, and if I continue to improve as I have in the last two months I shall evermore bless the Hoff treatment. GEO. RUTHERFORD,
Winnemucca, Nev.

Catarrh is a very dangerous disease, as well as an obnoxious one. If neglected it makes the reception of consumption germs easy. It frequently harbors latent consumption. Hoff's Cure cures it:

American Bureau, Bendiner & Schlesinger, Third Avenue and 10th Street, N. Y.:
I have been using Prof. Hoff's Cure for catarrh and find it to be the best remedy that I have ever used. It has checked my cough considerably, and I immediately felt better after using it.
B. H. KELLY, 94 Livingston ave., Albany, N. Y.

Professor Hoff desires his cure to be in the hands of every sufferer. It is humanity's medicine. The prescription is compounded in accordance with Prof. Hoff's directions and sent out by the American Bureau at Third avenue and 10th street, New York, at $1.00 per bottle. For greater convenience the remedy may be had at the same price from the well and favorably known firms mentioned below.

The triangular trade mark of the American Bureau of Professor Hoff's Cure must be on the label and this is the guarantee to the purchaser that it is the exact prescription used by Prof. Hoff at Vienna.

A 64-page book, containing complete descriptive treatise on the Professor Hoff Cure and accurate reports of several hundred cases, is mailed free on application or may be obtained by calling at these well-known druggists'.

IMPORTANT—Other Hoff Cures not bearing this triangular trade mark are not the authentic preparation authorized by the American Bureau.
You can obtain the genuine Hoff Cure at most drug stores. The great body of honorable druggists do not stoop to substitution by selling something "just as good" that means more profit to them. The genuine Hoff Cure can always be procured of the well-known druggists:

SCALPERS LOSE IN SUPREME COURT

Writ to Prevent St. Louis Judges From Trying Ticket Cases Is Denied.

EXPOSITION RATES INVOLVED

Railroads Declare That They Cannot Give Excursions Unless Protected by Judicial Orders

Dispatches from Jefferson City to the Post-Dispatch Wednesday morning state that the supreme court has denied Herman Schubach and other St. Louis ticket brokers a writ of prohibition against the judges of the St. Louis circuit court to enjoin them from trying suits brought by the railroad companies to prevent brokers from "scalping" excursion tickets.

The controversy between the railroads and the ticket brokers deals largely with the subject of reduced rates for the World's Fair.

The restraining order applied specifically to "mileage tickets, excursion tickets and commutation tickets," which, according to the contract made between the purchaser and the railroad companies are non-transferable.

Nontransferable Rule Holds Good.

The opinion then quotes from the return of the ticket brokers to the rule to show cause why the injunction should not issue on the ground that it has no jurisdiction, and the court says, "It then very inconsistently sets up that it has been the common practice of the railroads to issue excursion tickets which are stamped on their face "nontransferable," but that the practice and understanding of the ticket brokers is that such tickets may be transferred or sold and then the original purchaser's name may be signed on any one on the return ticket, and that brokers now have on hand a number of these tickets which they purchased in good faith, which would be rendered valueless and the business of the brokers destroyed should the injunction be granted. Upon the direction of alder, therefore, the return of the ticket brokers helped out the insufficiency, if any, that existed in the petition and unquestionably made a concrete case as to the tickets that are now held by the ticket brokers and presented a live subject matter between live parties which the court had power and jurisdiction over."

The court then says: "Broadly stated therefore, the question for decision is whether a petition by a railroad for an injunction against a ticket broker to restrain him from dealing in special tickets, which recite upon their face that they are issued at reduced rates and are non-transferable, but which do not relate to any particular occasion states a concrete case which a court in equity has jurisdiction to hear and decide. If it does, the writ of prohibition asked for herein should be denied; if it does not, the writ should go."

ROADS HAVE PROPERTY RIGHTS IN EXCURSION CONTRACTS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 23.—In the suits of Herman Schubach and other ticket brokers of St. Louis against the circuit judges of St. Louis and the leading railroad lines of the state entering that city to prevent the enforcement of an injunction by the circuit judges preventing the brokers from selling railroad tickets in violation of the anti-scalping law, the Supreme Court today, in an opinion by Judge Marshall, in which Judges Robinson, Brace, Burgess and Fox concur, denied the brokers this writ of prohibition sought by them in this court.

Judge Valliant filed a dissenting opinion, in which Judge Gantt concurs. The opinion is a lengthy one, covering 22 typewritten pages. The grounds for the writ of prohibition were that the circuit courts did not have jurisdiction in the matter, and that such injunction served the purpose of taking private property without due process of law. After setting out the pleadings at some length the court says;

"Reduced to its essentials and crystallized, the ticket brokers position is that no concrete cause is stated in the injunction suit which the court has power to deal with, or otherwise stated, that there is no existing controversy between the ticket brokers and the railways which would constitute a cause of action on which the court could act. The matter comprises itself into the question whether or not a basic subject matter over which a court has jurisdiction was presented to the circuit court for adjudication by the injunction suit.

"If a court has the power to act, its jurisdiction is in nowise impaired by the consideration whether it acted on accordance with law or erroneously.

"Given the jurisdiction, all else is a mere matter of error to be corrected on appeal."

The opinion then quotes from a decision of the United States Supreme Court and says "that was a suit for damages for being put off of a train. The plaintiff purchased from the defendant at St. Louis a ticket from Hot Springs and return. The ticket by its terms required that the original purchaser should identify himself to the satisfaction of the defendant's agent at Hot Springs, and that the ticket should be officially signed and stamped by the agent at Hot Springs, all of which the original purchaser agreed to 'in consideration of the reduced rate at which this ticket is sold.' The plaintiff failed to so identify himself, and failed to have the return ticket so stamped, and in consequence was put off the train and sued for damages. The lower court sustained a demurrer to the petition and the Supreme Court of the United States affirmed the judgment, holding that a railroad company has a right to make a contract with the purchaser of a reduced rate ticket that the original purchaser shall so identify himself and the return ticket shall be so signed and stamped, and that the reduced rate at which the ticket is sold affords a consideration for such a contract. This is manifestly upon the principle that when persons, sui juris, enter into contracts that are not prohibited by law based upon a valuable consideration, they must live up to them, and that each has a property right in the contract which the law will protect. In addition to this the laws of this state and the interstate commerce laws while prohibiting discriminations permit the railroads to issue excursions or commutation tickets at special rates."

WOMAN FATALLY BURNED BY OIL

Poured It on Coal to Hasten Fire and an Explosion Followed

Mrs. Ida Ammermann, while preparing breakfast at her home, 1219 North Seventh street, Wednesday, poured coal oil on the fire to hasten it. As a result, both she and her husband, Ham Ammermann, are at the City Hospital, where the physicians say Mrs. Ammermann cannot live.

When the oil exploded Mrs. Ammermann's dress became ignited and the flames quickly enwrapped her.

Her husband ran frantically to her rescue. In trying to open a window to call for help, he pushed his hand through a pane of glass and severed an artery in his wrist. He was also badly burned.

Mrs. Ammermann was burned from head to feet before the flames were extinguished. She is 55 years old, and her husband three years older. Mr. Ammermann will recover.

COLISEUM READY FOR BIG DINNER

Christmas Tree Is in Place and It Is Even Larger Than Last Year's.

IMMENSE STORE OF SUPPLIES

Basket Committee Busy Packing Dinners for Those Who Cannot Go to Banquet Hall.

That the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival of 1903 is a near approach to reality is shown by a look into the Coliseum, where preparations have been rapidly going forward since Monday noon.

A force of 40 helpers is employed there under the able direction of chairmen of volunteer committees.

First and foremost of all in the center of the great Coliseum floor there rises the immense Christmas tree. It was cut, like its predecessor of 1902, from the World's Fair grounds, under the supervision of Chairman Thomas Crouch of the tree committee, and is even a little larger than the last one. It stands 30 feet high, and a great scaffolding has been built around it by the decorator's helpers, who are engaged in wiring it for electric lights and putting on the toys, tinsel and other bits of color.

About this tree on the floor of the Coliseum carpenters have been busily at work building plain pine tables and seats for the 10,000 to 12,000 guests expected. There are 3000 feet of these tables, and Chairman C. R. Schraps of the dinner committee, estimates that they will seat 3200 guests at a sitting On each table will be two small evergreens, a total of 57 Christmas trees in the hall.

Through the huge pit exit from the Coliseum, in the east nave of the building, a corps of cooks, meat cutters, dish washers, packers and other men and women are at work with the immense store of dinner material that must be handled. All day Wednesday the ladies' committee has been at work supervising the packing of baskets for distribution to the needy sick and feeble and lame persons of the city, and all day Thursday this work will continue, together with that of actually distributing the baskets throughout the city, for Thursday is Christmas Eve. The distributing will be done by the Provident Association of St. Louis, and by volunteers and any hired teamsters that may be required in addition. Wagons, teams and drivers are needed, and volunteers for that work will find a welcome at the Thirteenth street entrace to the Coliseum Thursday.

The Rice-Stix Dry Goods Co. has donated the use of half a dozen freight trucks for the handling of the baskets and materials during the packing process in the Coliseum.

Indeed freight trucks are required for this purpose, for the store room of the Coliseum just now resembles the inside of a wholesale grocery house. No wonder, when plans have been made to dine 12,000 guests at the Festival and to send out 1200 baskets besides.

Immense Amount of Supplies for Baskets.

Vice Chairman Beverley A. Sturgeon of the basket committee of the Christmas Festival enterprise is one of the very busiest of persons about the Coliseum during these days of preparation. He is devoting all his time to it, and reports the following supplies now on hand in his commissary:

150	bushels potatoes.
150	bushels turnips.
1,200	pounds coffee.
1,200	pounds sugar.
2,400	loaves of bread.
1,200	pounds molasses candy.
1,500	chickens.
50	cases canned tomatoes.
50	cases canned fruit.
2,500	paper bags.
1,200	empty baskets.
50	pounds wrapping paper.
5	pounds twine.

And besides all this, the 3600 pounds of Turkey, 2500 pounds of ham, 1500 mince pies, 220 dozen bunches of celery, 120 gallons of cranberry sauce, and 80 gallons of milk are yet to arrive.

But one day now intervenes before the thousands of guests of the city will assemble in the Coliseum to hail Santa Claus on his triumphal trip around the arena in his automobile.

Every deserving poor person, child or adult, should be reported, that the proper invitation may be extended, for no person must be allowed to go hungry in St. Louis on Christmas day. The charity organizations and the police department are distributing tickets of admission and reporting worthy recipients for baskets every day now. Hence the list is growing, and its size cannot be accurately foretold today.

However, the requirements of the undertaking are going to be larger than expected, and every effort should be made to increase the subscription fund to the Christmas festival. All Post-Dispatch blank lists still out should be filled and sent in at once.

All is practically now in readiness save the raising of the fund to the required amount, and it remains only for the generous people of St. Louis to give of their means to assure the poor people of the city the greatest time of their lives on Christmas day. Every dollar given assures another basket dinner for some needy and otherwise neglected family of four. Every quarter makes another little guest happy in the Coliseum.

It is not too late to contribute.

The employes of the Continental Tobacco Co. have broken all records with their magnificent contribution of $270 to the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival Fund. The employes of this great institution have always been liberal givers to the fund. Their contribution represents a gift of something from every worker in the vast establishment. The contributions are entirely voluntary and range from five cents upwards to the larger contributions of the general officers. Everyone gives. Mr. R. B. Dula, the resident manager, had lists distributed on all the floors, but the work of making up the lists was done entirely by the workers themselves, who cheerfully contributed. All departments are represented in the contribution. These kind-hearted workers represent the very best spirit of Christmas and set a worthy example to all. Fortunately, the employes of many other establishments have shown a similar spirit, and it is to these people that the great success of the Christmas Festival is due.

To Miss Dollie Hobbs is given the credit of soliciting the splendid sum of $74 among the store force of Rothschild Bros. Hat Co. for the Christmas Festival Fund.

Mrs. L. M. McCall desires more helpers to decorate the Christmas tree and tables All ladies who desire to aid at the Post-Dispatch Christmas festival in decorating the hall should be at the Coliseum Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

CHRISTMAS TOYS BEHIND WINDOW PANES ARE NOT FOR THESE LITTLE ONES, BUT SANTA WILL VISIT THEM AT COLISEUM

In the poorer districts of St. Louis the children congregate in groups to spend hours gazing into the show windows of stores where Christmas goods are sold. Many a pupil is late at school as a result of this indulgence, and many an after-school hour is again thus whiled away. The Post-Dispatch here shows one of these groups at the window of a store on North Sixth street. They are typical children of the neighborhood. The photographer first caught them with his camera, then plied them with questions.

To his surprise he found that they were not looking longingly at the toys and novelties displayed inside. They had learned by cruel experience, even at their tender ages, that these things were not for them, hence why long for the unattainable? The stoicism of their lives had taught them differently.

These little ones were not pessimists but optimists.

They were not looking wistfully for that which was not for them, but eagerly, expectantly, hopefully for Santa Claus. An advertising Santa had been seen to enter this store the day before, and quickly the news had spread over the quarter. The decoy had worked like a charm and brought the little folks of the neighborhood in flocks to the show window. One little ringleader had announced that Santa was to appear in that window, and it was never left unguarded from morning till night.

Such is the faith and the persistence of the little ones, no matter in what circle of society they move. The child of the rich as well as the child of the poor, possesses that anxiety and is ever alert to catch the magic glimpse of Santa. It means all in the world to the juvenile mind.

While the children of the fortunate then are sure of seeing a jolly old saint, let them remember that Christmas is the one season of all the year in which to remember the poor and needy and neglected, and that Christmas without charity is not Christmas in the true sense of the word. Just a little hospitality on the part of every person, young or old, who reads this, means that one or more of these little hopefuls who wait all day in front of tenement district shop windows will be rewarded by a sight of the true Santa at the Coliseum on Christmas day. He will not be the Santa they must pay to see, but he will be the Santa that you must pay to see them.

These little ones who wait all day on a street corner for the reward of a glimpse of Santa should not be disappointed on Christmas day. Indeed many of those who wait at the shop window only seek to steal a march and see Santa twice, for they are depending on the hospitality of the kind-hearted people of St. Louis to contribute to the Post-Dispatch fund and give them a look at the real old fellow himself at the Coliseum.

Let more contributions be sent to the Post-Dispatch office that no worthy child shall be slighted. It takes money as well as hard work and good spirit to make the affair a success. The good spirit and the hard work have been volunteered liberally, and it remains only for those who cannot give of their services to give of their money. Still a good many dollars are needed, and the receipt of all will be acknowledged through the columns of the Post-Dispatch.

All subscriptions to the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival Fund, wherever possible, should be sent to the office of the Post-Dispatch. Contributions to individuals should be given to those having the numbered lists issued by the Post-Dispatch, to persons otherwise properly accredited by the Post-Dispatch, or to those whom you know.

Coupons on the tickets to the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival will be good for free rides on either the cars of the St. Louis & Suburban Railway Co. or of the St. Louis Transit Co. Christmas Day between the hours of 10 a. m. and 6 p. m.

WHAT WILL YOU BID FOR PRINCESS ANN, DOLL QUEEN OF FESTIVAL

Miss Ann, of Dolldom, who is for sale for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Xmas Fund, out strolling with her beau. You can judge Miss Ann's size when you know that the boy beside her is a well-grown youngster, five and one-half years old.

"Miss Ann is a princess," said the Doll with the Red Dress to her neighbor of the Yellow Frock.

"She is, indeed," replied Yellow Frock. "I've been standing here smiling out at the boys and girls and wondering where she will reign when she's queen."

"It's nice to be close to royalty. If I leaned back far enough I could touch the hem of that blue ruching on the bottom of her accordion plaited chiffon skirt."

Then Yellow Frock became confidential. "Know how much that pretty dress cost?" she questioned in a whisper. Red Dress shook her head.

"Guess," urged Yellow Frock.

"You tell," pleaded Red Dress.

"T-h-i-r-t-y d-o-l-l-a-r-s," replied Yellow Frock, with long drawn out emphasis that almost broke the whisper length in strength.

"Some money," commented Red Dress. "I heard that she has a modiste of her own. Must have had a designer, too, in order to get such effects as that blue and black. Doesn't it all go well with her complexion?"

But Yellow Frock had more to tell.

"Know how much she's worth?" she asked again. Red Dress was ignorant.

"One hundred dollars," said Yellow Frock in a hurry, hoping to bring wonder to her hearer by her sudden speech.

"Looks like she was worth more," said Red Dress. "Did you see her when she went walking with one of her admirers this morning?"

"I was taking my beauty sleep at the time," replied Yellow Frock; "how'd she look?"

"She had on all her pretty clothes and about her neck was a black chiffon boa to match her black hat. He's a fine young gentleman, just five and one-half years old. They made a handsome couple. She is almost as tall as he.

"He thinks there isn't another doll in all the world like our Princess Ann, daughter of the king of papers.

"I was glad, though, when she came back. This is a lonesome window without her. You know she's to be sold to the highest bidder. Sometimes I sit right still and listen to folks talking on the outside of the window.

"One little girl said yesterday: 'I want her, so I do. That's all I want for Christmas. Wish my papa could buy her. I'm afraid he hasn't enough money.'

"The little girl gazed at Princess Ann's long-lashed brown eyes for a long time then she said, 'I know what I'm going to do. I'll coax papa and Uncle Fred and Uncle Will and the boys and all the rest to put all the money they're going to spend for me together and then maybe I can have that pretty lady with the picture hat.'

"That's what grown-ups call a syndicate," said Yellow Frock.

"Princess Ann is to be sold that way if the highest bid comes in that style. She won't be with us long. Thursday morning at 11 o'clock the last bid will be received. Thursday at noon she will say good-by to all of us. And she's the biggest doll ever placed on sale in St. Louis.

"You know what they're going to do with the money that will be paid for her?" asked Yellow Frock, the questioner. But she waited not for a reply. "Buy dinners and other dolls like us for the children that will dine at the Coliseum Christmas Day.

"It must be nice to be the princess and do so much good in the world," sighed Red Dress.

"And look so pretty," added Yellow Frock. "But we're forgetting our work. We're looking at the princess instead of out of the window to see if we can find out who is to be the highest and best bidder of all those that look."

All bids for the purchase of Ann, the beautiful doll shown in the Post-Dispatch window, must be entered before 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

Syndicate bids will be received. When so designated bids will be considered donations to the Christmas fund by the ladies on the committees.

Should a syndicate bid be the highest the syndicate will be privileged to do what it will with the doll.

Her value is $100. Her clothing which was given her is worth $30.

Her hair is real hair and hangs in yellow curls below her waist. It can be washed and recurled.

The money received from her sale will be added to the Christmas fund.

She will be on exhibition in the Post-Dispatch windows until Thursday noon. Bids must be addressed, Miss Ann, care of Post-Dispatch, or left in the business office of the Post-Dispatch.

She will be awarded to the highest bidder in order that there may be a spirited rivalry for her ownership. Every extra dollar bid for Miss Ann means that four more needy children can be entertained at the festival.

At the office of the commissioner of supplies it is stated to be a fact that on Sept. 15 the commissioner purchased 332 squares from the Barber company's local agent at $10 per square.

THE TRUE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT.

The contribution of the employes of the Liggett & Myers the Drummond and other branches of the Continental Tobacco Co. to the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival fund was a striking exhibition of the spirit of kindliness and sympathy which gives Christmas its peculiar charm.

This contribution, amounting to $270.00, was made up of small sums subscribed by the scores of workers whose names appear in the lists. Practically every one contributed, and the gifts were made voluntarily and cheerfully, as an act of good will from those able to make them, for the benefit of those in need.

Many others have shown the same Christmas spirit. The general and prompt response to the appeal in behalf of the Festival has been most gratifying. But more remains to be done. It is but a short time till the doors of the Coliseum will open to the thousands of destitute men, women and children who are to be the invited guests of the Post-Dispatch and its readers. If you have not yet joined in this act of Christmas hospitality, the opportunity is still open. By accepting, you will make your own Christmas brighter and better. What will you do? Not one destitute person, not otherwise provided for, must be turned away or come short of the bounty of Santa Claus on Christmas day.

Mr. Wong's remark that we are spending $1,000,000 annually in sending missionaries to China and at the same time refusing to allow the young Chinese to come to America and get the Christian influence from our own Christian homes is in the nature of a logical "sockdolager."

A DELICATE SITUATION.

Should the acts of war committed by the Washington government against Colombia be followed by actual hostilities, acknowledged as war, what would be our position in the eyes of the other Spanish-American republics?

In its eagerness to procure the speedy construction of the canal, Mr. Roosevelt's administration has pursued a headlong course, and now finds itself in a difficult position, without being able to explain how it got there.

We have many times assured the republics south of the Rio Grande that we would protect them against the powers of Europe.

Now they are asking who will protect them against us. Their self-constituted protector appears to them in the role of a despoiler.

Of course, the result of a war with Colombia would never be in doubt. But can we afford the victory? There is no glory in such a struggle and the profit will be still less. The loss of the confidence and respect of the Spanish-Americans will be the source of unending embarrassment. A cheap triumph over Colombia will be a costly one, if we have any respect whatever for Spanish-American good will.

It is said to be devoutly hoped that in the present delicate situation there will be no more indiscretions, to say nothing of arbitrary and insolent assertion of American will. We have had strenuousness enough. Let us go back to good temper, good manners and fair dealing, which ought to be essential ingredients of conscious strength.

THE DIVORCE OF SQUAW JOSEPHINE.

When we contemplate the case of Squaw Josephine Denoya, a woman of the Osage tribe who lives near Pawhuska, in beautiful Oklahoma, it becomes difficult to believe that civilization has uplifted the American aborigines to quite such a height as it would tickle us to think.

Squaw Josephine seems rather to have caught on to the more deplorable phases of the white man's culture, since she has just brought suit against her husband asking for divorce and the custody of her four children. It is true, perhaps, that the noble red man from whom she seeks release has been cruel to her, but cruelty to their squaws has been a favorite pastime of Lo and his brothers for ages immemorial, and it has not been wont to break up families or sever the marital knot. Under the old regime, a couple of days or so of wifely convalescence from black eyes and bloody noses was all that was necessary to restore peace and happiness to the wigwam. And many philosophers claim that the squaw was all the better for this treatment.

Now, however, the bronze Josephine invokes the methods of civilization to put an end to the ancient—and poetically beautiful—Indian home life, and chaos reigns in countless tepees. Neither is the d[illegible]lopment entirely grateful to the eyes of the superior race from whom this iconoclastic squaw got her divorce pointers. We cannot think resignedly of Minnehaha asking for a legal separation from Hiawatha, with old Nokomis, perchance, steering her to a second expectantly happier matrimonial venture. There's something singularly depressing in such a picture—and if this is the "ultimate good" to which we have brought Squaw Josephine Denoya, a pastoral Pawhuska in fertile Oklahoma why all that can be said of it is that it's very bad indeed.

Once more the offense of lese majeste has been swiftly and fitly punished by the Supreme Court of Missouri. Speed Mosby, deputy clerk of the supreme court, had the audacity to write a book in which he described the political methods of the leaders and officials of the dominant party in the state and drew characters in which resemblances to these great men were discoverable. He has been discharged from his place as a seditious person, whose writings are dangerous to the peace and welfare of the state and threaten to disturb and possibly overthrow the government. The people of Missouri must be taught that their officials and political leaders are sacred personages whose acts and methods are not to be criticised with impunity. Authors and newspaper men must be careful to avoid offense in writing of the thin-skinned and narrow-headed statesmen who run the government at Jefferson City.

PUSH THE GRAFTING INQUIRY.

The testimony of a confessed grafter concerning the pilfering at the insane asylum will have to be taken for what it is worth, the worth to be ascertained by the grandjury and prosecuting officers.

But one thing is clear. Nothing short of the most searching inquiry will satisfy the public mind. Without fear or favor, every public officer whose duty it is to know the facts must exert himself to lay them bare. And any reluctance to furnish evidence on the one hand, or disposition to turn the investigation into political capital on the other, will not be tolerated.

Mayor Wells has shown commendable zeal in pushing this inquiry without any prompting or prodding. And he may be assured of the support of every decent citizen in St. Louis if he pursues it with relentless impartiality.

Remedy Is the Ballot.

From the Sedalia (Mo.) Democrat.

The plain, common people of the state will feel that justice has been outraged by letting Butler go free.

There is one recourse for the people—the ballot box. There they can declare for a new constitution, new statutes and new courts that can and will reach the criminal with the strong arm of justice.

Every guilty man who escapes on a technicality helps to bring our courts and our laws into disrepute, and the only remedy in the hands of the people is the ballot.

The people made courts, and the people can abolish them and make others when the old ones become so hedged about with technicalities and precedents as to no longer serve the purpose for which they were created.

JUST A MINUTE WITH THE POST-DISPATCH POET & PHILOSOPHER

A DOLLY DIALOGUE.

A golden-haired beauty, "the Miss Ann of Dolldom," will be auctioned by the Post-Dispatch, and the proceeds of this notable sacrifice will be applied to the Post-Dispatch Christmas Festival at the Coliseum on Christmas Day.

THE LITTLE GIRL.
Oh, what a lovely dolly!
What beautiful, soft hair!
Is there in all St. Louis
Another half so fair?

DOLLY.
Oh, I am glad you like me,
You lovely little miss!
I know you'd treat me kindly—
Yes, I am sure of this.

LITTLE GIRL.
Oh, I would be so happy,
If only you were mine!
How soft and pink your cheeks are,
And how your eyes do shine!

DOLLY.
I fear you try to flatter,
Yet many more have said
I am a perfect beauty,
And stroked my curly head.

LITTLE GIRL.
And they are going to sell you!
Oh, isn't that a sin?
(I wish I had a million!)
When does the sale begin?

DOLLY.
Ah, little girl! I fear you
Will only wish in vain,
For your poor little pennies
Could hardly stand the strain.

LITTLE GIRL.
If I'd a million dollars
And it could buy those curls,
I'd give it all, and gladly,
To help poor boys and girls.

DOLLY.
A royal Christmas dinner
They all must have this year,
And so myself I offer
To fill their hearts with cheer.

LITTLE GIRL.
Oh, bless you, pretty Dolly!
I weep to see you go,
Yet many will be happy
Because of you, I know.

Deciding for Her.

What'll I give her for Christmas—
A diamond ring,
An automobile
Or a book?
If she had a diamond ring
It would only make her vain and
Perhaps supercilious—
A most disagreeable thing in woman!—
And if she had an automobile
She would run over and Kill somebody and get
Sued for all kinds of damages—
Actual, punitive and collectible.
Now, do you know something tells me she
Would rather have a book?
Yes, that's what it will
Be—a book.

Reason for Rejoicing.

Christmas comes but once a year,
Time of holly wreaths and snow,
With its wealth of joy and cheer.
That sets happy hearts aglow;
Christmas comes but once a year—
Christmas, time to all so dear—
And we're mighty glad it's so.
Though its pleasures are extensive,
Holy smoke! they are expensive.

LEADING AMERICAN FLOWERS.

From Country Life in America.

The sale of cut roses in the United States amounts to about $6,000,000 a year; carnations, $4,000,000; violets, $[illegible],000, and chrysanthemums—a short-season crop—$700,000. The annual production is estimated at $100,000,000 each for roses and carnations and $50,000,000 for violets. This statement shows the great superiority of the carnation in two important points. It can be produced and sold more cheaply than the rose and its keeping qualities are very much greater. The carnation will never have as much sentiment as the rose, but it is destined to outstrip the rose as a people's flower, if indeed it has not already done so.

Salaries for Christmas Gifts

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I know of no act that would be more highly appreciated or more welcome or beneficial than that of paying all employes their wages a day or two before Christmas. This would give them an opportunity to buy little presents for the loved ones at home, who, as we all know, would appreciate it far more highly than if the same was bought and presented after the holidays. We are all aware that the salary of the vast majority of wage-workers is all gone long before the 25th of the month. That being the case, he must buy on credit, not only whatever little things he may wish to present to his loved ones, but also the necessaries for a good Christmas dinner. This, as we all know, is not very pleasant. Besides, he can always buy to far better advantage if he has the money in his pocket. W. J. T.

St. Louis.

A Woman's Protest.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The women of St. Louis have been laboring under the impression that the members of the board of lady managers are representative women. It was stated in one of our newspapers of a recent date that they outdid the local executive committee in diplomacy. It is a strange proceeding, but a fact, that they have dispensed with the services of one of our best and well known business women, substituting one of their own members at a higher salary and employing an entirely unknown woman as hostess. The women of St. Louis seem to be a nonenity in the eyes of these representatives and must expect to receive no recognition, as they have, through their diplomacy, brought a woman from New York and made her their president, and through their economic spirit are compelling the World's Fair company to pay out more money for less work.

We are anxiously awaiting an explanation of the change.

The Canal Question.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Congress having adjourned for the holidays without action on the Panama question, I would suggest that as the people of Missouri, as well as the people of the South and the section west of the Alleghenies, are vitally interested in the construction of an isthmian canal, that they assemble in the old historic courthouse and there give expression to their sentiments on this question that means so much to the prosperity of grand old Missouri, and the imperial city of St. Louis.

I think a meeting of this character addressed by prominent speakers of both parties would have the effect of showing the country at large that the people of St. Louis and Missouri appreciate the advantages that would accrue to them as well as to sister states, in the devoutly to be wished for consummation of an isthmian canal. Trusting you will publish above if in your judgment good can be accomplished through same.

Make the Icebox a Fort

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I've been reading about a lot of icebox robberies going on in this city and in hopes that my suggestion will help the poor servers of drink I would like you to publish it in your paper.

I've seen this tried in Chicago. Have a small hole bored in the icebox, with a gun trained onto the cash register, so in case a hold-up man goes after the cash he will be sure to come within range of the gun. The hole might be a little larger on the inside of the box, so the gun can be moved so as to get the other man in range; in other words, have it shaped like a loophole in a fort. A HOLD-UP MAN.

Two Santa Clauses.

Christmas, grand Christmas, that comes once a year,
Ringing glad tidings and filling with cheer,
Has two Santa Clauses—yet both are the same;
Each is well known, only different in name.

To big folks he's love and comes through the door,
Bringing his sweet gifts and lays them before
Eyes that are watching for tokens tender,
Blotting out all we should not remember.

Stories told to the children o'er and o'er,
How Santa Claus does not come through the door,
But down the chimney he creeps in the night,
With all his sweet gifts and is gone before light.

And when the little ones, with open eyes,
See everything asked for in glad surprise,
They hasten away, and the old story rings
How Santa has "tum and bringed us some fings."

To the big folks he's love; to the baby Santa Claus.

Helen's Engagement Ring.

Helen Was on Her Way Home From Europe to Meet Arthur—On the Boat She Met a Handsome Italian Nobleman Who Won Her Hand, and as Soon as He Won It He Covered It With Rings—Now This Is the Story of What Happened When Helen Met Arthur.

BY STANNARD JOHNSON.

(Copyrighted, 1903, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

THE second day out from Southampton Miss Helen Baker decided that ocean travel was not so bad after all. She sat placidly in her steamer chair and watched considerable interest the rest of the passengers as they took their morning walk or stood about in groups. Until now her sole acquaintance had been the ship's doctor and the room stewardess.

There was a heavy first cabin list and the decks were crowded. The greater part were Americans homeward bound, but there were a few who were undeniably foreign in appearance. One of these Helen decided must be a count at the very least. He was tall and slender, with a decidedly military air, which was accentuated by the immense mustachios as black as the neatly fitting frock coat he affected. Helen had never met a count and she watched him intently as he passed among the crowd on the deck, with a pleasant word and a smile for every one.

Her interest was not lost upon the count. Presently he dropped into the chair beside her with a remark about the weather. Now Helen had been cautioned by her aunt not to make the acquaintance of strange men on the boat. It was upon her promise not to, that she had been permitted to undertake the voyage alone. This was forgotten in a moment now. Surely, she argued, there could be no harm in talking to a count. Before the lunch bugle was blown they were fast friends, and the count knew more about her than she realized that she had told. He carried her rug inside the salon for her and she promised that she would try and take a little walk after lunch.

The count was a most agreeable talker and that night for the first time she did not open the little leather case with Robert Arthur's picture inside before she crept into her berth. All that night the count pervaded her dreams and there was not a thought for the man to whom she had given her love. It was on his account that she was hurrying back home, and here, with the steamer heading for New York harbor, she was forgetting him.

In the days that followed there were occasional twinges of remorse for her broken faith, but the glamor of a title was upon her. The count was an Italian, he said, and the glowing pictures he drew of his home in northern Italy were veritable castles in Spain. He was working to clear the estate, he told her. This object had been nearly accomplished. In another year he should marry an American girl and take her home to be his countess. Without speaking he gave her a pretty good idea as to the identity of the American girl he had in mind.

It was his last night aboard that he spoke his love. They had come up from the captain's dinner and were leaning over the side near the bow, watching the faint gleam of light reflected by the low hanging clouds from the city. In burning sentences he told her how completely she had won his heart; how implicitly he had given her his faith. Out from the black sea the reproachful face of Robert Arthur stared up at her, but she resolutely thrust his memory aside and with trembling lips pronounced the "yes" which drove the count to an ecstacy of bliss. He covered her hands with kisses and drawing from his hip pocket a little morocco case placed upon her fingers half a dozen rings. Even in the faint light the fire of the perfect stones was apparent and she started at the dazzling display.

"I can't wear these," she protested feebly. "I could never think of accepting such a gift."

His hand closed caressingly upon hers. "They are your engagement rings, Caro mio," he said softly. "They were my mother's. It is a little custom we have with those we love. Pray take them."

She made as though she would remove them, but in the end his will prevailed and she kept them on.

That night she was in a curious mixed state of exultation and fear. She was to be a countess and have all sorts of rich things, but on the other hand there were moments of passionate remorse when she thought of what Robert would say. Somehow she felt that she loved him dearly, and yet she had promised to marry the count. It was nearly morning when she finally dropped off to sleep, and the boat was already under way up the harbor when she emerged from the stateroom.

The count was waiting for her outside of the door. "It is better," he said softly, "that we should not be seen together. You will have your friends and it would be well to announce our engagement quietly at your home. I will call this evening." He made certain that he had the address right and hurried off. Helen shuddered. Robert would be certain to be at the dock. She was rather glad. It would be easier that way.

Then came the bustle and confusion of having the baggage passed and she was whisked off in a cab by Arthur. As soon as they were alone he caught her in his arms and covered her face with kisses. Even as she struggled against him she realized that the kisses were very sweet to her; not at all like the count's. She could not bear to have him kiss her lips. It was not a very determined resistance she made, but finally she pushed him from her. "You mustn't do that, Bob," she said, with burning cheeks. "You see, I'm engaged."

"That's just why," he explained. "You don't suppose I would kiss you like that if we weren't."

Her face grew red. "I'm engaged to some one else," she said simply. "I—I—Oh, Bob, I'm so sorry." Then she burst into tears, and, sobbing on his shoulder, told the whole story in disjointed sentences.

His face grew very white, and there were lines of pain about the mouth and eyes, but he did not scold as she had hoped he would. Instead he sought to comfort her, putting aside his own great sorrow to put her at her ease.

It was good to have some one to confide in, and long before the drive was ended she was heartily ashamed of herself. Somehow the count seemed but a memory. She did not love him in the least and his title did not seem so desirable with Bob's broad shoulder to lean against. Even at the risk of seeming flighty she would break the engagement. Now she knew that it was Bob she loved all along. She told him so, and he promised to see the count and explain.

His face grew black when he saw the rings. That was something he could not understand, but he put them away in his office safe and they let the matter drop.

Nothing was said to Mr. Baker, but all through the dinner she listened in agony of apprehension for the ring of the doorbell that would announce the approach of the count. Finally at dessert, the bell did ring, but it was only John Carter, from the custom house, dropping in for an evening chat with her father. He fairly glowed.

"We had great good luck today," he announced when he had been provided with a cigar and a cup of coffee. "Caught one of your fellow passengers, Miss Helen. 'Dago Dan' they call him, but he was on the passenger list as the Count of Montevecchio. Meet him?"

Helen nodded. She dared not trust her voice to speak. Only Bob's firm hand under the table gave her the courage to stay.

"He's a slick scamp," went on Carter. "Makes a practice of getting engaged to a girl and loading her hands with diamond rings. She gets them through the customs, he has a lover's quarrel with her, she gives him back his presents and he saves the import duty."

Helen laughed hysterically. "Why, I was his dupe this trip," she cried, nervously. "Show him the rings, Bob." The strain was too much for her and she broke down. It was Robert who told the story, while her mother comforted her. "—and now," he concluded, "what shall I do with the stones?"

"Well," said Cartetr, reflectively. "I don't think I would do anything. Miss Helen has not smuggled them, as they were a gift and therefore her personal property. The 'Count' won't be in a position to claim them for some years on account of a little matter of some watches in a false tray of his trunk. I think I would suggest that she accept them, as he said, for engagement rings."

PESSIMISTIC VIEW.

From the Chicago News.

Biggs: What is your private opinion of football?

Diggs: I don't think much of it. I'm afraid it's going to make the coming man rather effeminate.

Biggs: Why, how can it?

Diggs: It's all in the training. After he leaves college the chances are that he will develop the bargain counter rush habit. See?

FAR FROM HOME

"Yes, I'll give you a meal of victuals if you'll shovel off these sidewalks."

"Would you not prefer, madame, to have me shovel off the snow?"

"Poor fellow! Have you tramped all the way from Boston?"

When the Butterfly Becomes a Grub

By

Nixola Greeley-Smith

(Granddaughter of Horace Greeley)

IT is a peculiar fact, and one which has never been satisfactorily accounted for, that marriage, which seems to sharpen a woman's wits, almost inevitably stupefies a man's.

Else why the well-known wariness and guile of the widow and the equally patent gullibility of the widower?

Why is a woman's power of attack strengthened by a plunge into matrimony and a man's power of resistance lessened by a similar step?

Why does the most unsophisticated maiden emerge in widow's weeds and wiles from two or three years of marriage, and the most fastidious bachelor, when once he has made his entrance and his exit from connubial bliss, succumb at the drop of the least lovely eyelash or the pout of a faintly seductive mouth?

The fascination of widows is proverbial.

The ease with which widowers succumb to it is scarcely less so.

A widow marries the first man she lays her eyes on—if he suits her.

A widower is married by the first woman who sights him whether she suits him or not.

He is so easy that even an inexperienced young girl can marry him if she wants to.

Generally she doesn't want to, for while "the bondage bought with a ring" seems to make a woman more attractive, it almost invariably lessens a man's value, sentimentally considered.

There may be something romantic about a married woman. But about a married man there cannot be.

One may think of the bachelor as going downtown every day, coining his brain into the wherewithal for violets, for late suppers, for moonlight "bubble" rides through Westchester, without injury to his romantic aspect. But when under the spur of matrimonial necessity a man begins to think shoes, to dream dressmakers' bills, to scheme and toil and suffer from week end to week end that a more or less charming person may capture and distribute a more or less adequate salary among the grocer and the butcher and the baker——

"Whither is fled the visionary gleam?
Where is it now, the glory and the dream?"

When a man marries, a butterfly becomes a grub; when a woman marries a butterfly remains a butterfly, with the possibility of wider flights and more gayly colored wings.

When they are widowed, the butterfly flits hither and thither until it finds another satisfactory resting place, but the grub, not having wings, waits patiently for the first thing that comes along—and grubs for it.

AILMENT BAFFLES PHYSICIANS

James A. Emmett, Formerly Government Employe, Subject to Strange Attacks of Paralysis.

James A. Emmett, age 38, formerly a government employe in the Philippines, is at the City Hospital suffering from an ailment that has baffled the most skilled physicians of the east and west.

A bruise the size of a 10 cent piece on his right hip is believed by him to be responsible for touches of paralysis which occasionally affects his right leg. Without warning the limb gives way completely, rendering him helpless.

Emmett, who is well educated and well appearing, stated to the hospital doctors that in the four years that he has been afflicted he has spent $3,000 in his efforts to secure permanent relief. The sudden strokes are accompanied by intense pains that shoot from the base of the brain along the spinal cord.

Emmett formerly made his home in Philadelphia. He is now without funds.

Rabbi Hirsch of Chicago Praises the Work of St. Louis Jewish Union

Doctor Emil Hirsch of Chicago, rabbi of the Temple Sinai, addressed the second annual meeting of the Jewish Charitable and Educational Union in the Temple Shaare Emeth Tuesday evening. Dr. Hirsch spoke on charity, and the manner in which it should be dispensed. He said that reckless and unwise almsgiving is as evil in its effects as the withholding of charity entirely. On this line he praised the work of the St. Louis Jewish charities.

Julius Lesser and Marcus Bernheimer were elected directors at large. The other directors are Louis Glaser, Aaron Haase, Elias Michael, Albert Arnstein and David Treichlinger. The officers of the union are Moses Fraley, president; Marcus Bernheimer, first vice president; Julius Lessing, second vice president; William Stix, treasurer; Bernard Greensfelder, secretary, and Montefiore Bienstock, assistaint secretary.

A Record of Uninterrupted Prosperity for 123 Years Held by

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.

41 Highest Awards in Europe and America.

Look for this trade-mark on every package.

What is the secret of their great success? It is a very simple one. They have won and held the confidence of the great and constantly increasing body of consumers by always maintaining the highest standard in the quality of their cocoa and chocolate preparations, and selling them at the lowest prices for which unadulterated articles of good quality can be put upon the market.

They receive numerous letters from housekeepers who have used their cocoa and chocolate for many years, stating that lately, when ordering the Baker goods, other goods of greatly inferior quality have been sent to them. They find it necessary, therefore, for the protection of those who want their cocoa and chocolate, to issue an emphatic warning against these fraudulent practices, and to ask buyers to examine every package they receive, and see that it bears the well-known trade-mark of "La Belle Chocolatiere," and the correct name of Walter Baker & Co., Ltd. Under the decisions of the United States courts, no other cocoa or chocolate is entitled to be labeled or sold as "Baker's Cocoa" or "Baker's Chocolate."

THE PANAMA TREATY CERTAIN OF RATIFICATION

The Attitude of the Southern States Will Place Enough Democrats on the Affirmative Side to Insure Action Favorable to the Canal Agreement

GERMAN CAUCUS PLAN SEEMS SURE OF FAILURE

Dispatches From the Isthmus Are Less Warlike, and Washington Now Believes That Colombia Will Not Go So Far as to Provoke Actual Hostilities

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The following cablegram was received at the navy department today from Rear Admiral Coghlan, dated Colon: "Mayflower reports met Pinson carrying 300 men and munitions of war, bound for base at Titumati."

Titumati is near the mouth of the Arato river and in Colombia's territory.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Advice received here from southern states confirm the impression heretofore prevailing that sufficient number of Democrats will vote with the Republicans to ratify the Panama canal treaty. A count of noses prior to the recess of Congress indicated the two-thirds caucus rule could not be applied to the treaty, as more than eleven Democratic senators are in favor of it.

The announcement that the Louisiana Legislature has instructed Senators Foster and McEnerny to vote for ratification of the treaty has materially disturbed its opponents. It is regarded as not improbable that other southern states may follow this example. It is known that strong influences will be exerted upon the senators from Georgia and Mississippi to vote for the treaty, as the governor has come out openly for the treaty. These states will furnish enormous quantities of material used in constructing the canal and derive great benefit from that source.

It is considered almost certain that Senators Clark of Montana, Cockrell of Missouri and McCreary of Kentucky will vote for the treaty. It is expected that the legislatures of Florida and Mississippi will instruct their senators, following the action of Louisiana. It is significant that Senators Mallory and Talifero of Florida voted against the Blackburn resolution, giving two-thirds of a caucus the right to bind all its members.

Up to this time Senators Hoar and Hale are the only Republicans considered likely to vote against the treaty. It is not positively known these senators will actually vote an opposition.

Senator Gorman realized at the last Democratic caucus that he cannot now apply the two-thirds rule to the canal treaty. It was this knowledge which caused him to postpone a test of strength until after the debate has progressed so far that all the reasons for and against ratification might be developed.

Dispatches from the isthmus are less warlike today, and it is believed that Colombia will not provoke hostile action by the United States.

A full and detailed report of the condition of affairs on the isthmus as he saw them will be made to President Roosevelt and to Secretary Hay by Admiral John G. Walker, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, who has returned to Washington from Colon. The admiral's stay on the isthmus covered a period of about four weeks during which he went over the ground very thoroughly, particularly with reference to the condition of the canal property. Admiral Walker went to Colon as the representative of the President soon after the republic was proclaimed, and in this capacity has had an excellent opportunity to acquaint himself with what has occurred.

The admiral had little to add to what he had to say on his arrival in New York today regarding existing conditions on the isthmus.

"The Panama government," he said, "is composed of excellent, capable men, who have the confidence of the people. Everything is orderly and quiet and had I not known that a revolution had taken place before I arrived, there was nothing to show there had been any change. The only thing that was apparent was the fact that I could not get as much silver for an American dollar as I had on previous trips to the country. The government officials express confidence that the coming constitutional convention will indorse the ratification of the Hay-Bunau Varilla Panama canal treaty."

The admiral says the isthmians have no fear that the Colombians will attempt to reconquer the country. There is not, he said, a trail in all Panama of sufficient width to drive a wagon. Colombia has never built a road or constructed a bridge in Panama. The impassability of the country renders it unlikely, in the admiral's opinion, that warlike measures will be undertaken by Colombia.

"The end of the rainy season in Panama is now approaching," said Admiral Walker, "and the weather is hot. However, I did not see or hear of a case of fever of any kind while I was in Panama. Yellow fever does appear in Panama, but the inhabitants insist always that it is imported when it does make its appearance.

OTIS SKINNER PLAYED THE HOST MORE TRULY THAN HE SUPPOSED

While He Entertained His Friends With Pipe and Wine in a Play at the Olympic, He Was Also Entertaining in His Room at the Planter's a Guest Who Made Himself Very Much at Home.

Otis Skinner played an amusing double role in St. Louis last night. He was a host in two different places, and did not know he was entertaining in more than one.

Mr. Skinner stays at the Planters' Hotel. He left there early Tuesday evening and went over to the Olympic Theater, where he played the part of Charles Surface in "The School for Scandal." When the curtain rose upon the third act Mr. Skinner was seen in wig and satins, surrounded by a merry company, which found him a royal and generous host. They had pipes and champagne, and a rollicking time.

Mr. Skinner's audience looked on in amusement, but it would have been more amused had it known that the charming host of the stage was just then entertaining another guest, of whom he knew nothing.

This other guest was a burglar over in Mr. Skinner's room at the Planters'. The intruder found cigars to smoke and manuscripts of plays to read. Possibly, too, he found a little something to drink. At any rate, when Mr. Skinner returned from the theater, where he had played the host with such exquisite art, he found his room topsy-turvey, with papers strewing the floor, half-smoked cigars on the center table and mantle, and three suits of clothes and other haberdashery missing from the wardrobe.

Did Mr. Skinner regard the room with that bland smile so characteristic of Charles Surface?

Or did he forget his actor self, and, like any indignant layman, say——

Yes, he probably did.

Miss Rehan and Mr. Skinner made their last appearance in "The School for Scandal" at the Olympic Tuesday night, and tonight they will put on "The Taming of the Shrew."

Otis Skinner's Planters' Hotel burglar is a considerate knave. He came at a time when Mr. Skinner is impersonating Charles Surface, an easy loser; and he might as easily have come at a time when Mr. Skinner was impersonating Shylock—a hard loser.

ADA REHAN AS LADY TEAZLE

There is a little of everything in "Nancy Brown." Here is one of the conundrums: Q. What is the difference between a man who has seen Niagara Falls, a man who has not seen Niagara Falls, and a piece of lemon pie? A. The man who has seen the falls has seen the mist. The man who has not seen them has missed the scene—and the lemon pie is where you bite.

NO COLOMBIANS FOUND ON THE ISLAND OF PINES

COLON, Dec. 23.—Everything is quiet along the Atlantic coast.

The cruiser Mayflower is in from the Gulf of Darien, to which place she went after stopping at the Island of Pines, 30 miles northwest of Cape Tiburon, which is in Panama territory.

The Mayflower was sent out hurriedly on receipt of news brought by a native coasting schooner that Colombian troops had been landed on the island. Arriving at the island, which is inhabited by San Blas Indians, the Mayflower made a thorough examination and found the report to be untrue.

Landings were made at two Indian villages on the mainland, near the island of Pines, which is about three miles off the coast. The Indians were questioned by interpreters who said they had not seen any signs of Colombian troops. This occurred yesterday morning. The Mayflower then continued to proceed along the coast toward the Gulf of Darien, examining the coast, and in the afternoon reached Titumati, where the cruiser Atlanta saw the Colombian troops a week ago.

The Mayflower ran in close to Titumati and saw a number of Colombian soldiers on the beach. No landing was made by the Mayflower, which did not attempt to communicate with the Colombians, and shortly afterward departed.

While steaming out of the gulf the Mayflower sighted and soon passed close to the Colombian cruiser Gen. Pinzon, which was steaming at the rate of six knots toward Titumati. It was seen that the Gen. Pinzon had about 350 Colombian soldiers aboard. No communications were exchanged between the Mayflower and the Gen. Pinzon.

The gunboats Bancroft and Nashville report that all is quiet along the territory controlled by them.

The United States Consul Malmros, Gen. Meledez, today informed Admiral Coghlan that the republic of Panama laid no claim to New Providence and San Andreas, two islands about 200 miles north of Colon, to which it was recently reported the Colombian government had sent troops by the cruiser Cartagena. As Panama does not claim these islands the United States naval authorities will take no steps to verify the rumors. It is now expected that the United States warships which are going to Cartagena to meet Minister Beaupre, who is on his way there from Bogota, will leave Colon Dec. 25, arriving at Cartagena Dec. 27.

COLOMBIA ASKS THE UNITED STATES TO EXPLAIN

BOGOTA, Saturday, Dec. 23.—Dr. Luis Carlos Rico, minister of foreign affairs, has cabled Gen. Reyes at Washington for light on these points:

"If the United States government prevents the government of Colombia from subduing the rebels, then it ought to submit them to Colombian authority.

"The United States has never protected Colombia against foreign invasions. Whenever that government has interfered to prevent the interruption of traffic it has been because of the rights granted or at Colombia's request. Only in this instance has it interfered, on its own initiative, with the evident object of protecting the secessionists on the isthmus.

"If the guarantee of neutrality were to be looked upon as a privilege, it would prevent the sovereign government from keeping order on the isthmus, which is against the principles of all governments.

"The protocols of 1897 did not grant any new rights to the United States, much less the right of dominating this territory.

"The Hay-Herran canal treaty did not modify the obligations which the United States contracted by the treaty of 1846 to guarantee the neutrality, sovereignty and property of the isthmus. When this treaty was disapproved no new propositions were made.

"The orders given by the United States government to its navy helped to favor the secession movement, and Colombia was at peace when this movement began.

"The conduct of the Washington executive has been, and now is, in every way favorable to the rebellion but not to the mantenance of order, which is contrary to the principles and the antecedents of the United States government, and to the policy established by it during the American war of secession."

GEOR GOVERNOR STANDS RESIDENT ROOSEV

given by the business men of Atlanta to Brigadier-General Bassy, in command of the Department of the Gulf, Gov. Joseph M. Terrell of Georgia, in responding to the toast: "The State," said among other things:

"With many things that President Roosevelt has done, indeed with perhaps most of the acts of his administration, I differ, but there are two things which I most heartily indorse. I indorse the establishment of the Department of Gulf and I most heartily indorse the recognition of the independence of Panama, which means the construction of an isthmian canal, a thing in which we as southerners are most deeply and most vitally interested. It is not and cannot be made a party matter. We want the canal and we are in a fair way to get it, and if we do not get it now it will be our own fault."

ARNOLD CREDITORS AT WAR.

Printers Claim Priority Over Depositors and the Referee Must Decide

The Gottschalk Printing Co., which did printing for E. J. Arnold's "get-rich-quick" concern, and Dr. A. W. Williams, a depositor with Arnold, have given Walter E. Cole, referee in bankruptcy, the task of deciding whether the printing of Arnold circulars or the deposit of money with Arnold constituted the greater degree of complicity in his gambling scheme.

The printing company, as was told in late editions of the Post-Dispatch Tuesday, in seeking to establish the priority of its claim for $4280, alleges that the depositors were interested in gambling and have no recourse. The depositors, through Dr. Williams, plead that the printing company, by disseminating information concerning Arnold's scheme, was equally guilty with him in gambling, and has no recourse. The hearing will be held Dec. 28.

CONGRATULATES JURY THAT SAYS HE MUST DIE

"'Capt. Townsend,' I said, 'I've come to collect that money.'

"'Now,' he said, 'I want you to get out of this cabin.'

"'Capt. Townsend,' I said, 'I'll give you one more chance, if you don't——' and here I pulled out the revolver—'If you don't, I'll kill you.'

"Then he said, '—— you,' and I shot. He had on a white undershirt and I could see where the ball struck him and could hear the thud. Then I shot again. He turned right over and let out a long-drawn sigh, and that was the end of him. I was pretty near him, and it was easy to tell that he was dead. Then I made the remark, 'Capt. Townsend, you're out of your troubles.'

"Then I refilled the revolver because I thought that the noise must have attracted a crowd. I went up and saw Stofford, the mate, and another man standing on the deck, white and dazed, and I'm almost positive they heard me, but were too cowardly to do anything. I walked slowly up the dock to Third avenue and took a car that went across the bridge. I got to New York and was undecided what to do—whether I'd sell the revolver or not. Then I thought I might as well sell it and have a last good time while I could."

The prisoner was asked if he considered himself justified in killing Capt. Townsend.

Always Killed for "a Plausible Reason."

"I have always killed a man on provocation for a plausible reason," he replied.

"But the difference between you was only $6.30," said Mr. Elder.

"If it had been only 5 cents, I'd have done the same."

"And you're glad you did it?"

"No, I wouldn't use such an expression as that in speaking of it."

Burness identified the revolver with which he committed the murder.

"Yes, that's it," he said snapping the trigger several times and smiling.

Of his crimes, the prisoner was astonishingly frank, but not one word escaped him that gave the least clew to his real name or place of his birth. All that he would say was that he ran away from his home in an inland town, rode 200 miles to Baltimore and there shipped on a vessel bound for Bordeaux.

His first murder was in that city. It was over a sailor's sweetheart. After long imprishonment he was released on a plea of self-defense.

Next he was in a free fight at Pensacola. A man was killed. The prisoner said he did not do it.

Sailing from there he was bound for Antwerp when he got into a row with his "bosun." The other officers went to the "bosun's" aid. The captain had a revolver and the others bars and belaying pins.

"I grabbed a belaying pin and knocked the first mate senseless, and that frightened them, and they retired aft. Then there was no more fighting. They called it a mutiny, but when we got into port we escaped without being arrested, although the mate was taken to the hospital,' calmly related the amazing creature.

In a few months he was in New Orleans. The exposition was being held and he worked ashore for a time. Leaving there on a freight train he fell in with a mulatto and a white boy. The two made a noise and the whole crowd were forced off the train. In a quarrel that resulted he killed both his companions.

"Soused" White Boy's Body Into the Mud.

"I was fighting the mulatto when the white boy ran at me with a pocketknife and slashed me across the back. Then I went crazy with rage I grabbed a piece of cordwood and struck Baker across the head. The moment he went down I knew he was dead. The way he went down told me that. Then I turned for the mulatto. He ran, but I finally caught him and threw him to the ground.

"I had a revolver with me, but I did not use it. I threw myself on the negro, and, catching him by the throat, choked him until I knew he was dead.

"I dragged the negro to the edge of the swamp on the right hand side of the tracks, and threw him into the muck. The body sank at once, but as soon as I had thrown it in I was worried. I was afraid it would come to the surface. I decided that I would dispose of the other body so that there would be no chance of its being found. I dug a hole in the mud and soused the white boy into it."

After a time of roving he found himself in Boston on a spree.

'I spent 10 days haunting the shipping office, drunk all the time, and finally, one day started into the office of a man named Wilson, in Commercial street. A man standing in the doorway stopped me and told me to get out of that.

"I knocked him down, and we fought for 20 minutes. Then he fell upon me as I lay on the ground, and bit a piece out of my upper lip. I got up dazed, and was turning away from him when a teamster ran up to help him. I saw the teamster coming, and as the two of them started to strike at me I pulled a revolver and shot the stranger down.

"He died two hours later in the hospital.

"It was all done in a flash. I have not to this day a clear recollection of just what happened. I got three years in the Charlestown state penitentiary for that. I served out my time."

Pensacola came within his vision soon and there he shipped as steward on the Rebecca G. Moulton, bound for Havana.

"Capt. Cook was a good captain, but the first mate, whose name was Miller, was a dead man before he left port. I was bound to kill him sooner or later. He was always doing something to make me mad. It did not come for some time, however. In the meantime we were lying in Havana, where, in a sailors' free fight, I shot and all but killed an Italian. Miller, the mate, was waiting for me when I reached the ship that night.

"'What do you mean by shooting around this ship?' he asked.

"The answer I made was not a pleasant one and he turned and picked up a capstan bar and ran at me with it.

"I shot as he came toward me and he went down with a bullet trough his heart.

"By that time the whole harbor was ablaze with excitement. I ran aft to the starboard companionway and waited.

"Soon a boat load of Spanish marines attempted to come on board by the companionway to get me. I fought until my cartridges gave out. I was sentenced to two years for the earlier part of that night's work.

"In prison I became 'presidente' of our cell and was required to keep order. In a fight following the murder of one Chinese by a man of his own race, four men were wounded, two of them died.

"I killed both of them. In the reports of the hospital it was stated that they died of yellow fever. It was funny."

At the end of his term he was brought back to this country to stand trial for killing Mate Miller. He escaped on a technicality. The next time he was in trouble it was only a small shooting affair at Charlestown, Mass., for which he served three years.

GEN. WOOD CALLS FOR VINDICATION

Attention of War Department Drawn to Accusations Made Against Him by Lieut. Runcie.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The war department has made public the following letter:

"MANILA, P. I., July 28, 1903.

"To the Adjutant-General U. S. Army, Washington, D. C.—Sir: I have the honor to invite your attention to statements made in the editorial columns of the New York Sun of June 2, 4 and 6, and later dates, which clearly charge me with conduct of a most censurable character, perhaps contemptible would be a better word. I also invite your attention to the source from which the paper claims to have obtained its information, namely, statements of First Lieut. James F. Runcie (late major, U. S. volunteer cavalry), made to various reliable parties, and to request that the matter be referred to the inspector-general of the army for such action as may be required under the circumstances, or to any other authority which the war department may deem proper. I inclose herewith a statement of the facts in the case, together with true copies of letters, extracts from letters, etc., bearing on the subject.

"The matter is now one of three and a half years' standing and during the greater portion of this period I have been within easy reach of aggrieved party or parties. The statement enclosed gives the addresses of most of the persons who have more or less knowledge of the affair. It will be noted that many of the letters are confidential in character, the originals of which are in the confidential official files of the secretary of war. Very respectfully,

"LEONARD WOOD,
"Brig.-Gen. U. S. Army."

Samuel W. Lee of Kansas City Kills Sister-in-Law and Cuts His Own Throat.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 23.—Samuel W. Lee, aged 30, shot and killed his sister-in-law, Miss Florence Lee, aged 22, at his home here today and then made an effort to end his own life. Lee was a widower, and his sister-in-law, whose name was the same as his own, had been his housekeeper. Today she announced her intention of marrying a man in Kansas City, Kan., and made preparations to leave the house.

After vainly trying to persuade her to marry him, Lee shot the woman four times, and then fired two bullets into his own breast. When neighbors broke into the house, the woman was dead. Lee snatched up a razor and running into the street, followed by half a dozen persons, slashed his throat as he ran. He is fatally wounded.

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—Light scattered selling of wheat on an easier tone in cables caused a slight loss in prices, but the market held comparatively steady. Buying by pit traders on the light receipts was the principal support. After opening unchanged to a shade higher, at 82¾c to 82⅞@82⅞c, May declined to 82½c, but later steadied around 82⅝@82⅝c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 557 cars.

The market turned strong and May sold up to 83⅛c, closing 83⅛c, a gain of ⅛c for the day.

There was no change in the general situation in corn, and the market ruled steady. May opened unchanged at 43⅝c, sold off a trifle to 43⅜c, rallying later to 43⅝@43⅝c. Receipts, 154 cars.

Market became firmer and May closed ¼c higher at 44c.

Oats showed a little easier tendency after opening firm. The fact that there was not a car of contract oats in the receipts today was the early bull factor. After opening unchanged to a shade higher at 37c to 37@37⅛c, May eased off to 36⅞c. Receipts, 136 cars.

Provisions were stronger on smaller receipts of hogs than had been estimated, and an advance of from 5c to 10c in prices at the yards. May pork opened 5@12½c higher at $12.10 to $12.17½; May lard was up 5c, at $6.72½; and ribs 5@7½c to [illegible] higher at $6.45 to $6.47½.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—Cash wheat, No. 2 red, 88@90c; No. 3 red, 85@87c; No. 2 hard, 77@80c; No. 3 hard, 69@76c; No. 1 northern spring, 81@85c; No. 2 northern spring, 81@83c; No. 3 spring, 70@78c. Cash corn, No. 2, 42⅜@43c; No. 3, 42⅛c. Cash oats, No. 2, 35c; No. 3, 34½c.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—Butter quiet; steady; creameries, 16@23c; dairies, 14@21c. Eggs weaker, 20@27½c. Cheese steady; daisies, 10¾@11c; twins, 10c; Young Americas, 10¾c. Poultry steady; turkeys, 10@11c; chickens, 8@8½c; springs, 8@8½c.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 23.—Close—Wheat, spot firm; No. 2 red Western winter, 6s 3d. Futures quiet; December nominal; March, 6s 4⅝d; May, 6s 2⅜d. Spot corn steady; American mixing, 4s 2d. Futures quiet; January, 4s ½d; March, 4s 11⅛d.

LISTLESS MARKET ON WALL STREET

Only the Professional Traders Are Operating Now and the Range of Prices Is Narrow.

ROCK ISLAND SHOWS ADVANCE

Report That the Proposed Bond Issue Has Been Abandoned Seems to Meet Public Approval.

A quiet opening marked the beginning of the session on the exchange, with prices very close to the last prices of yesterday.

The announcement that Rock Island had postponed the proposed bond issue gave strength to the stock. There was a later recession which was overcome towards the close.

Money continued easy, the rates being from 3¾ to 4.

All of the New York tractions were strong and made good gains for the day.

Shorts showed a disposition to cover their sales, but desiring to carry their contracts over the holidays.

The war scare, which affects London, had but little effect on the market here.

The close was very quiet, as had been all of the session, and the last prices of the day showed the list at the top prices.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The opening this morning showed a continuation of yesterday's dullness, but as traders do not look for any market of consequence before a holiday, no one is surprised. London came some higher, but with few orders in this market. Consols abroad are 1-16 higher.

The changes from the close yesterday were very slight and what little business that is being handled is more of the nature of scalping transactions than anything else. The outsiders are not expected until after the first of the year, when monetary conditions are expected to be in excellent shape.

There is still a good deal of bull talk on the so-called "political stocks," Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Metropolitan and Consolidated Gas. The members of the pool have been doing considerable manipulating of late and these issues have done the greater part of the limited commission business.

The announcement that the Rock Island would postpone action on the new bond plan for the present had a good effect on the stock. It is supposed that most of the selling on the recent drive came from insiders who knew that announcement was to be made at the next meeting of the company to the effect that the issue was to be put on the market. The decided dissatisfaction shown by the public seems to have caused the management to change their plans at the last moment.

The trading for the first half hour was extremely listless, but prices inclined towards a higher level.

The opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper 47⅝, unchanged. Atchison 67¼, unchanged. Baltimore & Ohio 78⅜, advance ⅛. Brooklyn 51½, advance ⅛. Erie 29⅜, advance ⅛. Manhattan 142, unchanged. Missouri-Pacific 93¾, advance ⅛. Pennsylvania 117⅞, advance ⅛. Rock Island 23⅜, advance ⅜. Reading 45½, advance ¼. St. Paul 142½, advance ¼. Sugar 123¼, advance ¼. Union Pacific 78⅜, advance ¼. Steel common 10½, unchanged. Steel preferred 54⅜, advance ⅛.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Business was only moderately active at the opening of the stock market, and there was no trace of yesterday's depression. Most of the important stocks were slightly better, including Rock Island, which showed a rise of ½ per cent.

Attempts to pursue the rise further brought out more stock than the market could absorb, and it became reactionary. Brooklyn Transit and Consolidated Gas resisted the setback for a time and gained about a point, but eventually fell back sharply. Pressure against Rock Island was renewed, breaking it from 23⅝ to 22¾, and the preferred lost a point net. Unexplained weakness in Reading infused some depression into the other coalers, but offerings were very small. Brooklyn Union Gas advanced 3 points. The announcement of an increase in the Lake Shore dividend rate caused a dull advance in New York Central and some of the other Vanderbilts and a sympathetic hardening in the general list. New York Central, Cleveland, C. C. and St. Louis, and New York, Chicago and St. Louis gained 1 to 1¼. American Express, People's Gas, Westinghouse Electric and Railway Steel Spring pfd. rose 1¼ to 2. Declines were Delaware and Hudson and Pipe pfd 1, National Railway of Mexico pfd. 1⅞, Westinghouse Electric 1st pfd. 2½, and Lake Erie and Western 3.

Bonds were firm at noon.

PLANNING 14-CENT COTTON.

Bulls Want It on This Basis Before Christmas.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—There was great irregularity in the cotton market today with prices showing wide and rapid fluctuations. Cables were a shade disappointing, but the bull leaders were buying. Commission house clients seemed to be on the bull side of the market, and tips were circulated that the big bulls intended to put the market on a 14-cent basis before Christmas.

After the call prices ruled firm, but soon broke sharply. The declining tendency was soon checked, however, by a renewal of active bull support, and before the end of the first hour prices were again soaring above all previous records, with July in New Orleans selling around 14.11 cents, and the entire list in the local market showing feverish strength.

TRANSIT STOCK DULL, BUT HIGHER

On Sales of Only 25 Shares the Price Was Advanced to $13 This Morning

EDISON BONDS MAKE GAINS

Central Coal and Coke Was on the Market and Showed Considerable Strength

With Transit active during the earlier part of the week, today showed a reversal on this point. The sales aggregated only 25 shares, though the price was advanced enough to bring the late sales today up to $13. There was a fair demand for the stock at the close at this figure. The preferred also made a fractional gain, selling in 50 share lots at $57.75. Bonds of the traction company to the extent of $5000 sold at $78.

The Missouri-Edison 5s were again active, gaining a fraction to $96.50, with sales that footed $15,000. The bidding on the underlying bonds was limited.

Central Coal and Coke, after a period of inactivity, woke up today and the sales were at $60, with a trifle less bid at the close.

The Bell Telephone Co. of Missouri has declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable Dec. 31. The books will close from Dec. 24 to Jan. 6.

United Railways will pay the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on its preferred stock on Jan. 10. The books will close Dec. 26 and open Jan. 11.

RALLIED ALL ALONG THE LINE

Grain Recovers a Stronger Tone and Advances in Value on Better Buying.

CLOSED NEAR THE TOP

Armour Buying in Chicago Boosted Wheat—Lighter Receipts and Bad Weather Corn.

After a selling raid upon the May wheat option that cut the price ¼c, this selling ascribed by pit traders to the December combine as most of it by houses that act as their representatives in the market, there was a change for the better, ⅞c of the decline being recovered, and the close having sellers at ⅜@½c above day before. The rally appeared to be largely a case of Armour buying in Chicago, the resultant advance there rallying all outside markets. The war that has not yet broken out was said to be in part responsible in the reaction, but no new developments in the Eastern situation were sprung, and neither the actions of foreign markets or their demands indicated any excitement over prospects for war. Large receipts, most of which winter wheat, small exports, limited domestic and foreign demands, prospects for wet weather where needed in winter wheat regions and no alarmist cables from Argentine were not conditions to create speculative buying of good class. Most trading was of the merest scalping character, getting in on breaks and out on bulges if lucky, and the reverse if in hard luck. The refusal of the directory to raise the marginal price on December did not weaken that option in value, but No. 2 red sold on track ½c below the December price. This was for carlots the elevator buyers were not certain could be put in elevator in time to be delivered on contract. Both corn and oats had an upturn, oats following corn, which strengthened by lighter receipts and prospects for rains. Cash demands for both were poor.

WHEAT—There was plenty of May for sale in the local grain pit this morning, most of it coming from houses that are notable for their connection with the December combine. So much more was poured upon the market than buyers could stand for that a decline resulted, though at the lower prices shorts and "put" holders came in freely. General speculation was light and the trading indicated holiday markets, as did the cables on foreign markets. All the trading was in May, which opened steady at 81¾c and sold down to 81½c. July was offered at 75⅞c.

Even the warlike situation in the far East failed to brace the market this morning, the dull markets abroad, with Liverpool ⅛d lower, London unchanged and Paris unchanged to ¼c higher, taking the edge off this war influence and a cable reporting rain in the Argentine. The weather was moderate in our own country, with some rain in the southwest and prospects for more. Large winter wheat receipts were again a notable feature, at St. Louis 120,600 bu arriving, against 104,400 bu a week ago and 54,000 bu a year ago, and at Kansas City 398,000 bu, against 194,000 bu last Wednesday. The stock of contract grade here was nearly 4,400,000 bu, having increased 54,000 bu. Minneapolis and Detroit received 485 cars, against 537 cars a week ago.

An advance in Chicago where Armour reported a heavy buyer started the local crowd to buying, and the selling that depressed prices early having shut off there came a good advance, May selling up to 82⅜c and July at 76¼c to 76⅜c. Some war news helped this along, though the closing cables showed no excitement abroad. Liverpool was ⅛d lower for the day, London ⅛d higher, Paris up ¼@½c and Antwerp unchanged. The market fell back to 82⅛c for May, but later sold at 82¼c and was 82⅛@82¼c by 12 o'clock. July was offered at 76⅛c. December sold at 91½c. Primary receipts were 1,302,000 bu and shipments 252,000 bu.

There was little of interest to the market after the noon hour, nothing transpiring to create speculative operations of consequently. Most of the trading was in evening up for the holidays. Sales of 20 loads for export were reported. Clearances of flour and wheat were 295,000 bu without Galveston. May sold at 82¼c to 82¼@82⅜c, back to 82⅛c and at close 82¼@82⅜c sellers. December sold at 91¾c and that old. July offered at 76½c.

Cash market—Received 107 cars local and 27 cars through. Slow to heavy. Buyers of soft winter for delivery on contract taking hold more sparingly, fearing the time growing too short to make delivery into elevator certain. No. 2 red sold at 92½@93c for choice to fancy and 91¾@92c for ordinary and as low as 91c where not in good position for switching; No. 3 red at 89c to 90c and No. 4 at 83c@85c, all to go to elevator. Hard winter in limited demand. No. 2 at 76@77½c; No. 3 at 71@75c; No. 4 at 67@70c; rejected at 64@65c; No. 2 white spring at 78½c; No. 3 do at 72½@76c.

CORN—The increase in receipts of yesterday was not near so notable today, but 24,300 bu being posted for the home market, against 14,400 bu a week ago and 127,000 bu a year ago. Weather conditions, too, were softer and favorable for rains. These conditions along with strength displayed by outside markets had the effect of putting a check on the selling and increasing the buying somewhat so that prices advanced. Cables reported Liverpool unchanged to ⅛d lower and London unchanged.

May opened 1-16c off at 42c and sold up to 42¼c. July sold ⅛c higher at 42.

Strength was well maintained in this grain during the forenoon, May selling up to 42⅝c and July to 42½c. Trading continued light. Primary receipts were 543,000 bu and shipments 242,000 bu. Liverpool closed ¼@⅜d lower for the day and London unchanged.

A somewhat easier market was seen later, with light trading, May ranging from 42⅝c to 42⅛c, closing at 42¼@42⅜c. July sold at 42⅜c. December was traded in at 43⅜c. Sales for export of 10 loads reported. Clearances were 53,000 bu.

Cash market—Received 26 cars local and 1 car through. Weaker and slow sale, the demand principally to go to store. Shipping and local requirements light. Old scarce and sold at 43½c for No. 2, 42c for No. 3, 43½c for No. 2 white and 43c for No. 3 white. New at 40@40½c for No. 3, 38@39c for No. 4, 41½@42c for No. 3 white.

OATS—The future market was neglected most of the forenoon, but the tone was firm. May sold ⅜c higher at 38⅛c. Primary receipts were 688,000 bu, including 78,300 bu at St. Louis, against 47,250 bu one year ago, and shipments 196,000 bu.

The future market was neglected for the rest of the session.

Cash market—Received 42 cars local and 16 cars through. Dull and heavy, the tendency downward as the few buyers contending for lower rates. Shippers entirely out. By sample delivered—No. 2 at 37c; No. 3 at 35⅜@36c; No. 4 at 34¼@35c; No. 3 white at 37¼@38½c; No. 4 white at 35½@36½c and clipped at 37c.

RYE—Higher and in demand. No. 2 sold at 50½c local and 51c destination, and No. 3 at 49@49½c local, all destination east side.

Trade Topics.

Liverpool Corn Trade News cabled the following weekly foreign crop summary: United Kingdom—Drier weather prevailed during past week and crop conditions show a slight improvement in consequence. France—Weather has been too wet. Germany, Italy, Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria—Crop situation as a whole satisfactory, but weather unseasonably mild. Russia—Weather generally colder, but variable. Spain—Good rains fallen and crop situation improved. India—Crop prospects very favorable. Sales new crop wheat already being made for spring shipment. Australia and New Zealand—Indicated total yield of wheat for the two countri[illegible] 000 bu, of which about 48,000,000 bu [illegible] for export. This by far [illegible] previous [illegible] 1901, while average for past five years but 48,366,000 bu.

French advices from Paris report continued mild, wet weather, and no change in general crop situation. It is said that a good part of the seeding in the beet root districts in the north will have to be left over till spring, but this happens every season, except when there is exceptionally favorable weather in the autumn.

Liverpool wheat opened unchanged, but eased off ⅛d on dullness and large tenders on December contracts. Situation in the far East caused more or less concern and caused buying by a large house. This improved tone, though no advance in price. Corn opened quiet and unchanged to ⅛d lower and so remained during forenoon. Undertone was steady as very few sellers, but trading extremely dull owing to approaching holidays.

In Chicago cash business yesterday was 25,000 bu white corn to New England. Export business in all positions was 256,000 bu wheat, including 80,000 at the gulf, and 160,000 bu corn, 50,000 bu oats and 16,000 bu rye.

It is not now expected that wheat shipments from the Argentine will assume any large proportions until about the end of January, or possibly after the first of February.

Private Liverpool cable says: "Wheat and corn inactive; prices steady. There will be only a small business doing until the holidays are over."

The first of Australia's new wheat crop has been received at market. The South Australian yield per acre was 16 bushels.

General business will be suspended in St. Louis during Friday and Saturday of this week and no markets will then appear in the Post-Dispatch.

The directors of the Merchants' Exchange refused the request of the combine that has December wheat bought that a new marginal price be made on that month. As May wheat in the home market was 1¼c below the price when the 86c marginal price was fixed, the directors could not reasonably raise the price as the longs wanted. The shorts believe they should have reduced the price, especially as the January option was 7½c below the December.

Ocean freight rates on grain are declining because of the poor export business. On wheat from the Gulf to the Continent a rate of 5c per bushel is now obtainable, where 6c has been asked, and to Liverpool the rate is 3c. From St. Louis to New Orleans it costs 6c per bushel.

Argentine weather by cable: Rain in portions of Buenos Ayres only. Cloudy; light wind; barometer, 29.90; thermometer, 71.

FLOUR—Quiet market. All business practically confined to hard winters and small of that. An occasional export sale made and moderate domestic trade.

Soft winter flour—Patent, in wood, $4.25@4.35; straights, $4.10@4.20; extra fancy, $3.90@4.05; clears, $3.40@3.60; low grades in jutes, $2.40@2.90. Hard winter flours in jutes—Patents, $3.60 for first to $3.75 for extra fancy; straights, $3.30@3.50; clears, $2.80@3. Foregoing prices for lots from first hands, track or depot this side. Orders higher.

FRESH AIR RETREAT IS NOT FOR GAIN

Physicians Promoting It Say They Are Actuated by Philanthropic Motives

RELIEF FOR CITY PATIENTS

Sufferers From Tuberculosis Would Be Greatly Benefited by Outdoor Life and Good Diet.

Manager A. B. Hulit of the company which is planning the establishment of a fresh air camp for consumptives in the Ozarks in connection with a goat farm, and who has placed the proposition before the St. Louis board of health, says his company is not actuated by a desire for profit.

"We are not seeking this contract as a business venture," he says. "We are only actuated from philanthropic motives, and will be just as well pleased if some other plan just as good is adopted.

"Many of the doctors associated with us are eager to see thetuberculosis patients taken from the crowded City Hospital to a fresh air mountain home, where they may enjoy the environments of the country, pure air, exercise and pure food. This class of patients live largely on eggs and milk; in the city it is next to impossible to get a fresh supply of these products.

"True, the city is doing its best for these unfortunate people, but as they are now, and of necessity must be kept, they are in a ward, ten or a dozen in a room, some of whom are coughing all the time. No absolutely healthy man could go there and retain his health long.

"I do not suppose there is a doctor in our company who ever tnought we were to make money out of the enterprise. They argue that, as these poor people live largely on milk, and it is known that a large per cent of cows' milk is infected with bovine tuberculosis—which may or may not be transmitted to the human being— and it is claimed that goat's milk is immune from tuberculosis and is easier of digestion, they, as scientific men, want to see it tried.

"We propose to take these people at just what it costs, eliminating all question of profit. Our plan is to take a suitable tract of land well removed from the city and build thereon a group of small cabins, in which will be kept not more than two of the patients. A central boarding house would be provided for those unable to care for themselves. We believe we could do this for very little more than the city is now paying for much less satisfactory arrangements, and would be giving the patients a chance for their lives. Under no consideration would we assume full and absolute responsibility of the patients. Should such a plan prove beneficial it would demonstrate a principle in science that our city is deeply interested in; for the patients now in our hospital wards are but a fractional part of the many afflicted with tuberculosis."

COMPETITION FOR PASTORATE

Place of Father Coffey at St. John's Will Be Filled by Concursus.

Interested parishioners and Catholics generally have indulged in much speculation as to the successor of Father James T. Coffey in the pastorate of St. John's Church, from which he has been called to St. Leo's to succeed Father Harty, now archbishop of Manila.

The uncertainty as to the time of appointment is removed by Archbishop Glennon in an interview with the Post-Dispatch.

"The rectorate," said Archbishop Glennon, "is what is called an irremovable one, and can be filled only by a concursus.

"A date will be set early in January, before which all applicants must formally make known their intention.

"Directly after that date an examination committee of three will be selected from the board of examiners of the diocese.

After the examination a list of those best fitted for the position will be given to me, and from this list the appointment will be made.

"I cannot at this time name the exact date of the appointment, but it is very probable that it will be during the latter part of January."

An Artistic Display.

The popularity and general recognition of the artistic worth of the Autocrat pure rye whisky window display at Judge & Dolph's is proved by the large crowds which have passed favorable comments on the showing during this, the second week of the brilliant electrical exhibition. The beautiful setting of the Autocrat whisky bottles is much enhanced by the festooning of hundreds of vari-colored electric bulbs, which give a dazzling effect throughout the entire day. At night the appearance is even more entrancing.

Much interest has been shown in the series of window dressings descriptive of the merits of Autocrat whisky and all admit that the result has been a truer appreciation on the part of the public of the great medicinal qualities of the beverage, as well as the vastly superior advantages it possesses over all other brands.

20 ARRESTED IN "STUTTS" GAME

Eighty Players Escape, but Police Get Cards and Most of the Stakes.

When three policemen walked into a small room in the rear of 322 Russell avenue Tuesday night, 100 men tried to get out at the same moment through three doors and two windows, taking chairs, tables and a hot stove with them.

All but 20 succeeded, the 20 being arrested by the three policemen and locked up.

The 100 were playing "stutts," a game like faro in which each player uses a full deck of cards. They were crowded around a table and even standing room was scarce in the room. On the table lay $150 in bills and silver .

When Officers Pazdernick, Feene and Madsen pushed into the crowd a chorus of yells they could not understand greeted them, and Madsen received a blow which sent him to the floor.

Then the players rushed for doors and windows, struggling with one another and coming to blows in their efforts to escape. The officers cornered the trailing members of the crowd and arrested them.

Theodore Sansalus, who conducted the restaurant in the same building with the game, and John Cassino, who had charge of the game, were held. The others arrested were Micholas Senivous, J. Johnson, Peter Plenn, Theodore Raccopolis, James Lankus, Charles Leptos, Andrew Darling, George Gutch, Peter Franloptolis, Thomas Barvist, George Tapolis, George Nix, Nicholas Garronilius, John Antonipolis, James Kollis, Gus Eanos, John Bushert and William Sedres.

The officers also secured 18 decks of cards, the playing table and the money.

Stricken With Apoplexy While the Guest of a Friend

Rear Admiral White was a native of Ohio and entered the naval service Nov. 29, 1861. He was made a rear admiral upon the day of his retirement, Dec. 28, 1899.

WIFEBEATER FINED

Water Commissioner Ben C. Adkins appeared in the Dayton Street Police court Wednesday as prosecuting witness against Charles Wormann, 65 years old, of [illegible] North Broadway, whom he charged with repeated disturbances of the peace. Warmann was fined $25, and will pay the city by labor at the workhouse.

Warmann lives near the Baden waterworks station, and visitors there have been annoyed, according to Commissioner Adkins, by the man's frequent abuse of his wife. Without resorting to the courts the commissioner has tried to make Warmann change his ways, but to no avail. Tuesday afternoon Commissioner Adkins saw Warmann, armed with a butcherknife, chasing his wife around in his yard, and called a policeman.
